RECORD VOTE IN OHIO EXPECTED BY OFFICIALS

Fee-Splitting By Physicians Hit By College Of Surgeons

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(AP)—The American College of Surgeons denounced fee-splitting between physicians and surgeons Thursday as "dishonest and unethical" and harmful to patients.

Thirteen college officials told of a renewed drive against the doctor kick-backs in a frank news conference with science writers. One good weapon, they said, is to tell the public all the facts.

They said most doctors are honest, but a "few bad apples" split fees, giving medicine a black eye.

Some said the kickback practice is widespread and growing in some areas. But it is hard to prove that any one is doing it. Twenty-three states have laws against it.

Fee-splitting means a division of fee between the doctor who first diagnoses a patient's condition and the surgeon who operates on him.

It leads, the college officials said, to these evils:

Over-charging in bills; unnecessary operations; "ghost surgery" when a person thinks his own doctor is operating and the selected or "ghost" surgeon does it after the patient is anesthetized; loss of public confidence in doctors.

Dr. Alton Ochsner of New Orleans, immediate past president of the college, said you should be suspicious of fee-splitting if:

Your doctor sends you to only one surgeon and later you get no bill from the physician, just a bill from the surgeon.

Your doctor doesn't give you a choice of surgeons to do the operation he says is necessary or doesn't ask you whom you want to do it.

If you suspect fee - splitting, your recourse is to ask your county medical society to investigate. The societies have committees that are supposed to do this.

Learn whether your hospital is approved and accredited by top medical organizations. The approved and accredited hospitals set up safeguards against kickbacks.

Some of the 13 surgeons, mostly members of the college's board of regents and governors, agreed that "in certain areas, fee-splitting is widely practiced by a large percentage of physicians."

Fee-splitting was rampant in Columbus, O., six years ago, the surgeons said. A Columbus surgical society was formed and it agreed that every surgeon would have his books and income tax returns inspected by an independent auditor.

Armed Bandit Robs East Main Street Cafe Of $468 In Cash

An armed bandit held up a bartender and a waitress in Hanley's Cafe in downtown Circleville early Thursday and made off with about $468 in cash.

Circleville police said the robbery happened at 2:28 a. m. Thursday as the cafe was being closed.

On duty in the cafe at the time were Bartender Dencil Arledge and Waitress Irma French.

Arledge told policemen he was closing the cafe when a man who had been talking with the waitress confronted him with a gun and told him it was a holdup.

* * *

ARLEDGE AT first laughed at the man when he asked for cash, but later handed it over, police said.

The holdup man also commanded the bartender to open the cafe's safe, but passed it up when Arledge convinced him he was not able to open it.

After taking the money, the bandit forced the bartender and waitress into the basement and warned them to stay there.

Police Chief William McCrady said witnesses saw the man emerge from the cafe and jump onto the running board of a car described as a 1936 Ford coupe. Another man who reportedly had been in the Top Hat, located across the street, was in the driver's seat, and the auto moved off east on Main street.

Arledge almost immediately telephoned the police and Officers Leroy Hawks and Russell Ogan were dispatched to the scene.

Columbus police later believed they might have captured one of the men when they arrested a motorist after a four-block chase. The motorist told police he had been waiting in his car, matching description with the one used here, while two companions were trying to siphon gasoline from nearby vehicles.

However, Arledge and the waitress later were unable to identify the motorist when they viewed him in Columbus.

Police said they believed they had seen the pair several times late Wednesday and Thursday on the street, and entering local cafes. They were strangers to the city, however, police said.

Adlai's 'Fund' Is Explained

'2 Or 3' Friends Chip In Aid, Agent Says

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—(AP)—A Chicago insurance executive said Thursday he turned in between $500 and $1,000 to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's special fund that was donated by two or three of the governor's close personal friends who wished to remain impersonal.

Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, has said he used this fund to supplement the salaries of key state officials.

He said the fund was necessary to attract to state jobs men of competence who could not afford otherwise to leave higher paying positions.

Hermon Dunlop Smith, the insurance executive who now heads the Volunteers for Stevenson, a national fund raising group for Stevenson's presidential campaign, said in a statement:

"About a year after Gov. Stevenson took office two or three outstanding Chicago businessmen who were close personal friends of his mentioned that they were so much impressed by the wonderful administration he was giving the state that they were anxious to be of assistance.

"As they had heard he was having difficulty securing and maintaining a staff of the quality he needed they expressed a desire to contribute for this purpose. In order to remain impersonal, they asked me to transmit the contributions to him. It is my recollection that the total amount of these contributions was between $500 and $1,000."

Solon Blames Dems For Hike In Crime Rate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The Democratic administration must take responsibility for the nation's increase in violent crime, Rep. Bernard W. (Pat) Kearney said Thursday.

The New York Republican cited this week's report by the FBI that 1,022,200 major crimes were committed in the United States during the first half of 1952, a 6.4 per cent increase over the corresponding period a year ago.

Kearney, a member of the House UnAmerican Activities Committee, said in a statement distributed by the Republican National Committee:

"The whole spirit of lawlessness and corruption which the New Deal and Fair Deal have built up in the country was bound to have an effect. If we don't have honesty and integrity in high levels of our national government how can we expect these moral principles to apply elsewhere."

Kearney also said:

"The long-standing tieup of crime and politics is a characteristic of the Democrat Party. When you add to this the rank dishonesty and graft which infest the Democrat national administration it is no wonder that we are faced with a sharp increase in crime."

TV Credited With 'Drying' Up Politicians

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Television is putting the nation's political conventions on the wagon, the president of the national Women's Christian Temperance Union said Thursday.

"The Republican assembly at Chicago in July appeared almost bone dry," said Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin of Evanston, Ill. "The Democratic convention was slightly wetter."

"Drinking," Mrs. Colvin said, "obviously was confined to hotel rooms. But even this was reported at a minimum, because as one Texas delegate remarked, 'I never knew when television would show me all over Dallas.' "

Mrs. Colvin, in St. Louis for preconvention sessions of the WCTU's 78th annual meeting which opens Friday, said more political candidates this year are drinking fruit juices and soda pop for photographers.

"We hope they will stay as sober if and when elected," she said.

Pickaway County Farmers Urged To Begin Wheat Weevil Control

Pickaway County farmers who are storing their own wheat were urged Thursday to begin treating the grain against weevils.

At the same time, the wheat-growers were warned to use caution in making the treatments.

County Extension Agent Larry Best said local farmers should begin fumigating their stored wheat in the next two to three weeks to eliminate weevils.

Best said farmers throughout Ohio are reporting weevils in their granaries, weevils which can cut the market value of their crop appreciably.

Six weevil-control chemicals are now offered on the market, but entomologists say many farmers fail in their pest control because they use a substitute for carbon bisulfide, recognized as the most effective fumigant.

* * *

"SUBSTITUTES are not as effective as carbon bisulfide," Best said. "It takes heavier concentrates of substitutes to kill weevils and is more expensive."

The agent warned, however, that careless use of carbon bisulfide can cause fires and could cause unconsciousness if breathed in sufficient quantity.

"When you use the chemical," Best said, "don't breathe too much of it and don't smoke or use lights in the same area until the treatment is ended."

Best said the most effective method for killing weevils is to use three pounds of carbon bisulfide for every 100 bushels of wheat in storage.

The agent said if the farmer does not plan to mill his grain in the near future, an effective method of fumigation is to sprinkle the chemical over the grain and cover it with a tarpaulin.

If planning to mill the grain soon, the farmer may place the chemical in shallow pans near the surface and cover the area with a tarp for 36 hours.

"Carbon bisulfide produces a heavier-than - air gas," Best said, "and for effective results the treatment must be made at the surface of the grain.

"When the treatment is ended, take the tarp off and open up the bin for a thorough airing."

The county agent recommends treatment within the near future since cooler temperatures do not permit the fumigant to become gaseous as quickly and therefore loses its effectiveness.

2 Men Flee County Jail In Wilmington

WILMINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Two federal prisoners, using a pair of scissors as a weapon, escaped from the Clinton County jail here Wednesday night but one of them was captured a few minutes later hiding under an automobile.

Recaptured was George Norman, 22, formerly of Dayton. The other man—Wilbur Virgil Martin, 30, no address—was last seen heading southwest along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

Norman attacked Sheriff Howard C. Botts as the officer was putting another prisoner in the cell. He called for help and Martin joined the fight, wielding a pair of scissors. It was not clear how Martin got possession of the scissors.

Norman was stabbed in the shoulder and Botts suffered a cut finger in the scuffle. The two prisoners broke away and fled.

Ike, Dick March Together Again

Tearful Reunion Sees General Say Of Nixon: 'That's My Boy'

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 25—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon marched side by side back to the political wars Thursday after a dramatically tearful reunion here.

Although Eisenhower took on a heavy whistle stop schedule in West Virginia and Maryland, and Nixon flew west to Salt Lake City they were teamed solidly by a 107 to 0 vote of confidence by the Republican National Committee in the vice presidential nominee.

Washed out were any doubts that might have been in the mind of Eisenhower, the GOP presidential standard bearer, whether Nixon's acceptance of more than $18,000 in privately - raised expense funds from wealthy Californians should count him out as a candidate.

Standing before a shivering crowd of about 7,000 persons which failed to fill the flood-lighted Wheeling Municipal Stadium, Eisenhower testified for his running mate Wednesday night in these words:

* * *

"LADIES AND gentlemen, my colleague in this political campaign has been subjected to a very unfair and vicious attack.

"So far as I am concerned, he has not only vindicated himself but I feel that he has acted as a man of courage and honor and, so far as I am concerned, stands higher than ever before."

Nixon replied:

"I went before a great number of my fellow American and laid before them a case, a case which some of them I knew honestly misunderstood, a case which I felt it was my obligation to present.

"It seems to me that candidates for the presidency and the vice presidency of the United States, as Gen. Eisenhower says, have got to be as clean as a hound's tooth."

There was much more. But in these few words the smiling Republicans hoped they had wrapped up satisfactorily one of the strangest cases in American political history—talk of the possible ouster of a vice presidential candidate from a national ticket.

But the Democrats were not likely to consider the case closed.

Nixon flew about 1,700 miles from Missoula, Mont., to land on Wheeling's hilltop airport. Eisenhower, who had been waiting patiently in a car, strode up the plane ramp.

* * *

AS THE GENERAL walked into the big ship, he said:

"That's my boy" and the two men half embraced, both with tears in their eyes.

In his Wheeling speech Eisenhower says the Republican Party embraces the entire membership regardless of whether individuals agree with all of his ideas.

The GOP presidential nominee said the Democrats were trying to "most generously advise me which senators I should work with and which I should disown."

Mentioning no names, Eisenhower obviously was referring to Democrat' attacks on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, both of whom seek re-election.

"Membership in our party," Eisenhower said, "does not necessarily mean mutual agreement or approval other than on basic objectives and principles."

Eisenhower said he welcomes into his "crusade" all of those who "share a common repugnance to the mess in Washington."

McCarthy has asserted that Gen. George C. Marshall had taken part in a "conspiracy" against his country, and Jenner has declared that Marshall was a "front for traitors."

Taft Stumps Michigan For Ike Ticket

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 25—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, having stumped Michigan, is believed to have pulled his personal following in this state into the Eisenhower-Nixon camp.

Taft criss-crossed the state about 700 airline miles Wednesday to preach the theme that he and Eisenhower saw eye-to-eye on virtually all issues. Thursday he left for Wisconsin.

Making his first campaign swing since he climbed on the bandwagon of Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft fired audiences in the Western Upper Peninsula and in Southwestern Michigan for the GOP national ticket. These areas sent Taft delegates to the Chicago National Convention and stuck to the Ohio senator to the end.

Part of his tour was devoted to a defense of the Taft-Hartley Law, which is under heavy attack by President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The rest of the time he hammered the theme that excessive federal spending and heavy taxes are wrecking private enterprise, private incentive and liberty itself in the United States.

"I feel," Taft said, "that Gen. Eisenhower believes as I do that we are spending too much on the military and on foreign aid."

'53 Fertilizer Supply Seen Above Normal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—The Agriculture Department has predicted that supplies of fertilizers for 1953 crops will be about 12 per cent greater than during the last two years. But there remains the possibility, the agency said, that there will be shortages in some fertilizer elements.

The department said 1953 crop supplies would include 1,585,000 tons of nitrogen, up about 11 per cent from this year, 2,465,000 tons of phosphates, up about 12 per cent and 1,850,000 tons of potash, an increase of 17 per cent.

Shortages are likely to be greatest in nitrogen.

"As far as can be seen," the agency said, "farmers will be called on for similar high-level production for the years ahead to take care of needs of our expanding population.

"With little prospect of having additional land or labor, it is imperative that farmers lay their plans to achieve higher productivity per acre, and on a basis that will sustain and improve, not deplete, the fertility of the soil."

Attorneys Hold Strategy Huddle Before PUCO Phone Hearing

Attorneys representing Circleville and 17 other communities met Thursday in Columbus to discuss strategy to be used in joint litigation against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

The utility has filed request for an increase in rates and the 18 communities have joined forces to oppose the move.

A hearing before the Ohio Public Utilities Commission is scheduled Monday in Columbus. It will be held at offices of the commission, 65 South Front street, in the Ohio Departments building and will open at 10 a. m.

Richard Penn, local attorney, has volunteered to represent Circleville at the hearing without remuneration. On the same basis, he has agreed to serve as legal adviser for any parallel action taken by Circleville as an individual community.

* * *

LOCAL LEADERS in opposition to the company's rate hike request are attempting to have a PUCO attorney-examiner sent here to hold a public hearing in Circleville.

Penn planned to investigate the possibility of such a hearing while conferring on the case Thursday in Columbus.

He expected to return here late Thursday afternoon.

A number of subscribers from other parts of the state traveled to Columbus Wednesday to testify before the PUCO against a rate increase for the Ohio General Telephone Co.

The firm operates 138 exchanges in 60 Ohio communities.

Customers told the commission the utility has been giving poor service and that it is using antiquated equipment.

* * *

A SPOKESMAN for the phone company pointed to completion of a $10.472 million expansion program, under a 1949 agreement with the commission, in supporting the rate hike request.

Circleville has contributed $300 to help pay costs of the group litigation against the company.

Adlai Plans Midwest, Dixie Trips, Keeps Silent On Nixon

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 25—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, still silent on political funds and GOP "vindication" sessions, took a look Thursday at Dixie campaign schedules and chances of patching up political troubles in the Southland.

Campaign maneuvers that will reach deep into Dixie were in the final planning stages at headquarters of the Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson aides said that through the middle of October the Illinois governor will be jumping back and forth from his Springfield base to key spots both in the South and in the Midwest.

Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana, a staunch Stevenson supporter in a state where fires of rebellion are smouldering among some elements of the Democratic Party, was an overnight lodger at the Illinois executive mansion.

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana has deserted Stevenson. So has Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

* * *

BUT OF MORE immediate concern to Stevenson are a foray into Indiana and Kentucky on Friday and Saturday, a major television-radio speech in Chicago Monday and flying visits to Ohio and Iowa to close out next week.

He still had nothing to say about the dramatic reunion in Wheeling, W. Va., Wednesday night between Gen. Eisenhower and his vice presidential teammate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California.

Eisenhower pronounced Nixon "completely vindicated" of any charges of wrongdoing in the use of an $18,000 fund collected by some of the senator's California supporters to help out with Nixon's expenses.

And Nixon accused Stevenson of "clamming up" about a fund raised to supplement the salaries of Illinois state officials.

Stevenson offered no immediate comment on Nixon's remarks. He stood pat on what he said earlier—that it would be "a breach of faith on my part" to name key state officials whose salaries he said he supplemented with donations from the special fund.

These gifts, Stevenson said, made it possible to get men of competence and integrity for state jobs which they could not afford to take otherwise.

The money, he said, came from funds left over from his 1948 campaign for governor, plus some later contributions. None of the contributors knew what officials received funds and none of the recipients knew who gave the money in the first place, the governor said.

So, he said, he saw no purpose to be served by disclosing the names of officials who received gifts or the amounts they got.

Registrations Point To High Poll Interest

3½ Million Buckeye Ballots May Be Used On November 4

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—(AP)—Ohioans will march to the polls in record numbers in November, a survey of the state indicated Thursday.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicted a new election voting record of 3½ million or more on the strength of the registrations that closed in metropolitan areas Wednesday.

Seventeen counties require countywide registration and 18 other counties have partial registration.

Residents of the other 53 Ohio counties can vote if they are 21 years old by election day and have lived in the state a year and in their precinct 40 days.

(Editor's note: No registration was required in this county.)

Big city election boards reported heavy last-day registrations and most of them said they set new records. Brown estimated total registrations will hit or exceed a record three million. Total registration in 1950 was 2,673,516, an increase over the 2,428,145 in 1948.

* * *

THE TOTAL vote in 1948, the last presidential election year, was 3,138,463, although the record listed by the secretary of state's office was 3,376,239 in 1940. The total 1950 election vote was 2,987,424.

Brown attributed the record registrations and the prospect of a record election vote to interest in the current candidates and their campaigns coupled with active registration drives.

State and local officials, civic groups and press campaigns all helped greatly, Brown said.

The registration drives stemmed from the fact that less than 57 per cent of Ohio's eligible voters cast ballots in the 1950 election, Brown explained.

Populous Cuyahoga County reported a registration total of 788,547, well over the previous high of 685,766 of two years ago. Election officials said duplications probably will shave the new total to about 775,000.

That's the way it went on Ohio's other big counties.

The Summit County election board in Akron estimated registrations hit a record 224,000. There were about 187,000 in 1948. Approximately 15,000 voters signed up at 30 registration places on the last day.

* * *

YOUNGSTOWN reported 146,200 registrations in Mahoning County, compared with 131,735 two years ago and 128,000 in 1948.

Lucas County reported a record 215,000, including Toledo. The previous high was 178,358 in 1950.

Hamilton County, including Cincinnati, turned in 409,465 registrations. The previous high was 365,000 in 1950. Election officials estimated duplications would trim about 10,000 from the total.

The count in Montgomery County was 189,652 the day before registrations closed. Eli Walker, board clerk, estimated the total would hit 200,000 for a new record. Dayton is the county's largest city.

Franklin County officials estimated a record registration of 265,000. The previous high was 247,484 in 1950 for Columbus and the county.

Lausche Sees Planning Need In Atom Area

PADUCAH, Ky., Sept. 25 — (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio said Wednesday advanced organized planning will be needed to solve problems arising from construction of the billion-dollar atomic energy plant in Southern Ohio.

Construction work on the Pike County project is expected to start within 30-40 days, with four and one-half to five years required to complete the job. Peak employment of construction workers is expected to hit 30,000.

The governor and 12 other Ohio officials conferred with Kentucky and Atomic Energy Commission authorities at the huge AEC project here. The governor said:

"The increased demands for housing, school facilities, highway service, water supplies, sanitary facilities, health and police service can only be met by early organized planning."

"Inventories have to be taken of what we have, what is needed and then proceed in an orderly way to supply the deficiency. Meeting the problem in a helter-skelter manner creates incurable evils."

The governor said he will meet Oct. 3 with local, state and AEC officials in Waverly to discuss the Ohio project.

Municipal Court Opinion Is Given

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Attorney General C. William O'Neill ruled Thursday that judges and clerks of municipal courts are eligible to take part in public employe retirement programs.

O'Neill also ruled village clerks within the jurisdiction of a municipal court must compute the village's share of court expenses and determine the correctness of all bills presented to the village by the court.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The House UnAmerican Activities Committee has excused Jewish witnesses from appearances Monday, when its hearings open here, because that day is the Jewish holiday Yom Kippur.

Witnesses of that faith have been notified of postponed dates for their appearances. Others are expected to appear as scheduled.

Ike, Dick March Together Again

Tearful Reunion Sees General Say Of Nixon: 'That's My Boy'

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 25—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon marched side by side back to the political wars Thursday after a dramatically tearful reunion here.

Although Eisenhower took on a heavy whistle stop schedule in West Virginia and Maryland, and Nixon flew west to Salt Lake City they were teamed solidly by a 107 to 0 vote of confidence by the Republican National Committee in the vice presidential nominee.

Washed out were any doubts that might have been in the mind of Eisenhower, the GOP presidential standard bearer, whether Nixon's acceptance of more than $18,000 in privately - raised expense funds from wealthy Californians should count him out as a candidate.

Standing before a shivering crowd of about 7,000 persons which failed to fill the flood-lighted Wheeling Municipal Stadium, Eisenhower testified for his running mate Wednesday night in these words:

* * *

"LADIES AND gentlemen, my colleague in this political campaign has been subjected to a very unfair and vicious attack.

"So far as I am concerned, he has not only vindicated himself but I feel that he has acted as a man of courage and honor and, so far as I am concerned, stands higher than ever before."

Nixon replied:

There was much more. But in these few words the smiling Republicans hoped they had wrapped up satisfactorily one of the strangest cases in American political history—talk of the possible ouster of a vice presidential candidate from a national ticket.

But the Democrats were not likely to consider the case closed.

Nixon flew about 1,700 miles from Missoula, Mont., to land on Wheeling's hilltop airport. Eisenhower, who had been waiting patiently in a car, strode up the plane ramp.

AS THE GENERAL walked into the big ship, he said:

"That's my boy" and the two men half embraced, both with tears in their eyes.

In his Wheeling speech Eisenhower says the Republican Party embraces the entire membership regardless of whether individuals agree with all of his ideas.

The GOP presidential nominee said the Democrats were trying to "most generously advise me which senators I should work with and which I should disown."

Mentioning no names, Eisenhower obviously was referring to Democrat' attacks on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, both of whom seek re-election.

"Membership in our party," Eisenhower said, "does not necessarily mean mutual agreement or approval other than on basic objectives and principles."

Eisenhower said he welcomes into his "crusade" all of those who "share a common repugnance to the mess in Washington."

McCarthy has asserted that Gen. George C. Marshall had taken part in a "conspiracy" against his country, and Jenner has declared that Marshall was a "front for traitors."

Eisenhower has vigorously defended the patriotism of Marshall, an old friend and Army mentor.

Registrations Point To High Poll Interest

3½ Million Buckeye Ballots May Be Used On November 4

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—(AP)—Ohioans will march to the polls in record numbers in November, a survey of the state indicated Thursday.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicted a new election voting record of 3½ million or more on the strength of the registrations that closed in metropolitan areas Wednesday.

Seventeen counties require countywide registration and 18 other counties have partial registration.

Residents of the other 53 Ohio counties can vote if they are 21 years old by election day and have lived in the state a year and in their precinct 40 days.

(Editor's note: No registration was required in this county.)

Big city election boards reported heavy last-day registrations and most of them said they set new records. Brown estimated total registrations will hit or exceed a record three million. Total registration in 1950 was 2,673,516, an increase over the 2,428,145 in 1948.

* * *

THE TOTAL vote in 1948, the last presidential election year, was 3,138,463, although the record listed by the secretary of state's office was 3,376,239 in 1940. The total 1950 election vote was 2,987,424.

Brown attributed the record registrations and the prospect of a record election vote to interest in the current candidates and their campaigns coupled with active registration drives.

State and local officials, civic groups and press campaigns all helped greatly, Brown said.

The registration drives stemmed from the fact that less than 57 per cent of Ohio's eligible voters cast ballots in the 1950 election, Brown explained.

Populous Cuyahoga County reported a registration total of 788,547, well over the previous high of 685,766 of two years ago. Election officials said duplications probably will shave the new total to about 775,000.

That's the way it went on Ohio's other big counties.

The Summit County election board in Akron estimated registrations hit a record 224,000. There were about 187,000 in 1948. Approximately 15,000 voters signed up at 30 registration places on the last day.

* * *

YOUNGSTOWN reported 146,200 registrations in Mahoning County, compared with 131,735 two years ago and 128,000 in 1948.

Lucas County reported a record 215,000, including Toledo. The previous high was 178,358 in 1950.

Hamilton County, including Cincinnati, turned in 409,465 registrations. The previous high was 365,000 in 1950. Election officials estimated duplications would trim about 10,000 from the total.

The count in Montgomery County was 189,652 the day before registrations closed. Eli Walker, board clerk, estimated the total would hit 200,000 for a new record. Dayton is the county's largest city.

Franklin County officials estimated a record registration of 265,000. The previous high was 247,484 in 1950 for Columbus and the county.

Attorneys Hold Strategy Huddle Before PUCO Phone Hearing

Attorneys representing Circleville and 17 other communities met Thursday in Columbus to discuss strategy to be used in joint litigation against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

The utility has filed request for an increase in rates and the 18 communities have joined forces to oppose the move.

A hearing before the Ohio Public Utilities Commission is scheduled Monday in Columbus. It will be held at offices of the commission, 65 South Front street, in the Ohio Departments building and will open at 10 a. m.

Richard Penn, local attorney, has volunteered to represent Circleville at the hearing without remuneration. On the same basis, he has agreed to serve as legal adviser for any parallel action taken by Circleville as an individual community

* * *

LOCAL LEADERS in opposition to the company's rate hike request are attempting to have a PUCO attorney-examiner sent here to hold a public hearing in Circleville.

Penn planned to investigate the possibility of such a hearing while conferring on the case Thursday in Columbus.

He expected to return here late Thursday afternoon.

A number of subscribers from other parts of the state traveled to Columbus Wednesday to testify before the PUCO against a rate increase for the Ohio General Telephone Co.

The firm operates 138 exchanges in 60 Ohio communities.

Customers told the commission the utility has been giving poor service and that it is using antiquated equipment.

* * *

A SPOKESMAN for the phone company pointed to completion of a $10.472 million expansion program, under a 1949 agreement with the commission, in supporting the rate hike request.

Circleville has contributed $300 to help pay costs of the group litigation against the company.

Taft Stumps Michigan For Ike Ticket

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 25—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, having stumped Michigan, is believed to have pulled his personal following in this state into the Eisenhower-Nixon camp.

Taft criss-crossed the state about 700 airline miles Wednesday to preach the theme that he and Eisenhower saw eye-to-eye on virtually all issues. Thursday he left for Wisconsin.

Making his first campaign swing since he climbed on the bandwagon of Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft fired audiences in the Western Upper Peninsula and in Southwestern Michigan for the GOP national ticket. These areas sent Taft delegates to the Chicago National Convention and stuck to the Ohio senator to the end.

Part of his tour was devoted to a defense of the Taft-Hartley Law, which is under heavy attack by President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The rest of the time he hammered the theme that excessive federal spending and heavy taxes are wrecking private enterprise, private incentive and liberty itself in the United States.

"I feel," Taft said, "that Gen. Eisenhower believes as I do that we are spending too much on the military and on foreign aid."

Adlai Plans Midwest, Dixie Trips, Keeps Silent On Nixon

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 25—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, still silent on political funds and GOP "vindication" sessions, took a look Thursday at Dixie campaign schedules and chances of patching up political troubles in the Southland.

Campaign maneuvers that will reach deep into Dixie were in the final planning stages at headquarters of the Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson aides said that through the middle of October the Illinois governor will be jumping back and forth from his Springfield base to key spots both in the South and in the Midwest.

Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana, a staunch Stevenson supporter in a state where fires of rebellion are smouldering among some elements of the Democratic Party, was an overnight lodger at the Illinois executive mansion.

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana has deserted Stevenson. So has Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

* * *

BUT OF MORE immediate concern to Stevenson are a foray into Indiana and Kentucky on Friday and Saturday, a major television-radio speech in Chicago Monday and flying visits to Ohio and Iowa to close out next week.

He still had nothing to say about the dramatic reunion in Wheeling, W. Va., Wednesday night between Gen. Eisenhower and his vice presidential teammate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California.

Eisenhower pronounced Nixon "completely vindicated" of any charges of wrongdoing in the use of an $18,000 fund collected by some of the senator's California supporters to help out with Nixon's expenses.

Stevenson offered no immediate comment on Nixon's remarks. He stood pat on what he said earlier—that it would be "a breach of faith on my part" to name key state officials whose salaries he said he supplemented with donations from the special fund.

These gifts, Stevenson said, made it possible to get men of competence and integrity for state jobs which they could not afford to take otherwise.

The money, he said, came from funds left over from his 1948 campaign for governor, plus some later contributions. None of the contributors knew what officials received funds and none of the recipients knew who gave the money in the first place, the governor said.

So, he said, he saw no purpose to be served by disclosing the names of officials who received gifts or the amounts they got.

Lausche Sees Planning Need In Atom Area

PADUCAH, Ky., Sept. 25 — (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio said Wednesday advanced organized planning will be needed to solve problems arising from construction of the billion-dollar atomic energy plant in Southern Ohio.

Construction work on the Pike County project is expected to start within 30-40 days, with four and one-half to five years required to complete the job. Peak employment of construction workers is expected to hit 30,000.

The governor and 12 other Ohio officials conferred with Kentucky and Atomic Energy Commission authorities at the huge AEC project here. The governor said:

"The increased demands for housing, school facilities, highway service, water supplies, sanitary facilities, health and police service can only be met by early organized planning."

"Inventories have to be taken of what we have, what is needed and then proceed in an orderly way to supply the deficiency. Meeting the problem in a helter-skelter manner creates incurable evils."

The governor said he will meet Oct. 3 with local, state and AEC officials in Waverly to discuss the Ohio project.

Pickaway County Farmers Urged To Begin Wheat Weevil Control

Pickaway County farmers who are storing their own wheat were urged Thursday to begin treating the grain against weevils.

At the same time, the wheat-growers were warned to use caution in making the treatments.

County Extension Agent Larry Best said local farmers should begin fumigating their stored wheat in the next two to three weeks to eliminate weevils.

Best said farmers throughout Ohio are reporting weevils in their granaries, weevils which can cut the market value of their crop appreciably.

Six weevil-control chemicals are now offered on the market, but entomologists say many farmers fail in their pest control because they use a substitute for carbon bisulfide, recognized as the most effective fumigant.

* * *

"SUBSTITUTES are not as effective as carbon bisulfide," Best said. "It takes heavier concentrates of substitutes to kill weevils and is more expensive."

The agent warned, however, that careless use of carbon bisulfide can cause fires and could cause unconsciousness if breathed in sufficient quantity.

"When you use the chemical," Best said, "don't breathe too much of it and don't smoke or use lights in the same area until the treatment is ended."

Best said the most effective method for killing weevils is to use three pounds of carbon bisulfide for every 100 bushels of wheat in storage.

The agent said if the farmer does not plan to mill his grain in the near future, an effective method of fumigation is to sprinkle the chemical over the grain and cover it with a tarpaulin.

If planning to mill the grain soon, the farmer may place the chemical in shallow pans near the surface and cover the area with a tarp for 36 hours.

"Carbon bisulfide produces a heavier-than - air gas," Best said, "and for effective results the treatment must be made at the surface of the grain.

"When the treatment is ended, take the tarp off and open up the bin for a thorough airing."

The county agent recommends treatment within the near future since cooler temperatures do not permit the fumigant to become gaseous as quickly and therefore loses its effectiveness.

'53 Fertilizer Supply Seen Above Normal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—The Agriculture Department has predicted that supplies of fertilizers for 1953 crops will be about 12 per cent greater than during the last two years. But there remains the possibility, the agency said, that there will be shortages in some fertilizer elements.

The department said 1953 crop supplies would include 1,585,000 tons of nitrogen, up about 11 per cent from this year, 2,465,000 tons of phosphates, up about 12 per cent and 1,850,000 tons of potash, an increase of 17 per cent.

Shortages are likely to be greatest in nitrogen.

"As far as can be seen," the agency said, "farmers will be called on for similar high-level production for the years ahead to take care of needs of our expanding population.

"With little prospect of having additional land or labor, it is imperative that farmers lay their plans to achieve higher productivity per acre, and on a basis that will sustain and improve, not deplete, the fertility of the soil."

Solon Blames Dems For Hike In Crime Rate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The Democratic administration must take responsibility for the nation's increase in violent crime, Rep. Bernard W. (Pat) Kearney said Thursday.

The New York Republican cited this week's report by the FBI that 1,022,200 major crimes were committed in the United States during the first half of 1952, a 6.4 per cent increase over the corresponding period a year ago.

Kearney, a member of the House UnAmerican Activities Committee, said in a statement distributed by the Republican National Committee:

"The whole spirit of lawlessness and corruption which the New Deal and Fair Deal have built up in the country was bound to have an effect. If we don't have honesty and integrity in high levels of our national government how can we expect these moral principles to apply elsewhere."

Kearney also said:

"The long-standing tieup of crime and politics is a characteristic of the Democrat Party. When you add to this the rank dishonesty and graft which infest the Democrat national administration it is no wonder that we are faced with a sharp increase in crime."

TV Credited With 'Drying' Up Politicians

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Television is putting the nation's political conventions on the wagon, the president of the national Women's Christian Temperance Union said Thursday.

"The Republican assembly at Chicago in July appeared almost bone dry," said Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin of Evanston, Ill. "The Democratic convention was slightly wetter."

"Drinking," Mrs. Colvin said, "obviously was confined to hotel rooms. But even this was reported at a minimum, because as one Texas delegate remarked, 'I never knew when television would show me all over Dallas.' "

Mrs. Colvin, in St. Louis for preconvention sessions of the WCTU's 78th annual meeting which opens Friday, said more political candidates this year are drinking fruit juices and soda pop for photographers.

"We hope they will stay as sober if and when elected," she said.

2 Men Flee County Jail In Wilmington

WILMINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Two federal prisoners, using a pair of scissors as a weapon, escaped from the Clinton County jail here Wednesday night but one of them was captured a few minutes later hiding under an automobile.

Recaptured was George Norman, 22, formerly of Dayton. The other man—Wilbur Virgil Martin, 30, no address—was last seen heading southwest along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

Norman attacked Sheriff Howard C. Botts as the officer was putting another prisoner in the cell. He called for help and Martin joined the fight, wielding a pair of scissors. It was not clear how Martin got possession of the scissors.

Norman was stabbed in the shoulder and Botts suffered a cut finger in the scuffle. The two prisoners broke away and fled.

The blaze was already checked by the time Ashville fire department arrived.

The flames were extinguished by Howard Carle, who lives on the property, after the loss of only a pile of straw.

The barn was damaged by fire some time ago and workmen have been putting a new siding on the structure.

18 Commies Indicted By Grand Juries

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Eighteen second-string Communist Party leaders, rounded up by the FBI last week, have been indicted on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the United States government by force.

Federal grand juries Wednesday returned indictments against seven in Seattle and five in St. Louis. The six others were indicted in Detroit Monday.

The action, announced by the Justice Department, charge violations of the Smith Act. This law prohibits the advocacy or teaching of the violent overthrow of the federal government. It provides penalties up to $10,000 fine, 10 years imprisonment, or both.

The 18 party functionaries were picked up Sept. 17 by the FBI in Midwest cities and on the West Coast. They are alleged to have inherited party leadership after the convictions two years ago of the highest Communist officials in this country.

Since it began moving against the party under the Smith Act in 1948, the government has obtained more than 80 indictments and has convicted more than a score of party leaders.

The Seattle indictment charged the seven defendants with 16 specific overt conspiracy actions. The St. Louis indictment charged the five there with 15 specific overt acts. The six indicted in Detroit were charged with 17 specific overt actions.

2 Men Hurt In Accident; Driver Sought

Two men were injured and a search starated for a third man in a headon crash of two cars late Wednesday on Route 23 just south of Little Walnut.

The accident happened at about 9:05 p. m. Wednesday when a Northbound auto operated by Phillip Harris, 41, of Columbus, was in collision with an auto stolen earlier from Columbus.

State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller of Circleville arrested Joseph Lewis Jr., 29, of Columbus, for investigation following the mishap.

Lewis told the patrolman he had been asleep on the rear seat of the stolen car when the accident happened. Impact of the crash threw him from the car.

* * *

AT THE SAME time, Lewis said the auto was operated by a man he identified only as "William," who fled the scene. The auto reportedly operated by "William" was owned by Clarence Brown of Columbus.

Both autos were virtually demolished in the crash.

Harris was treated in Berger hospital for a possible jaw fracture and lacerations and abrasions of the face, knees and chest.

Lewis, in being thrown from the car, suffered abrasions of the forehead and body bruises. He is being held in the city jail.

Elinor Williams'

Teen Tips

Everybody agrees that 'teen girls have pretty hair, because most of you keep it shining-clean and well-brushed. But there's nothing attractive about some of the hair-habits of high-schoolers that offend other people so often.

What are they? Check your good-grooming, appearance and manners with this list of "pet peeves" sent in by readers:

1—Combing your hair in public. This includes combing your tresses on busses, in theaters and, worst of all, in restaurants where dirt, dust and dandruff from your locks makes nearby food unsanitary and unappetizing for others. If you MUST comb your hair every 10 minutes, find a powder room or rest room where you can do it right . . .without annoying other people.

2—Pin-curls in public. They look gruesome. If you really have to take your pin-curls into your public life, cover them. No, a soiled, bedraggled three-cornered cotton scarf won't do; it looks as ugly as the pin-curls. Try, instead, one of the fashion-wise coverings for pin-curls that you'll find in department stores. Some look like turbans, little hats or caps and are much more likely to be becoming. You'll look fully dressed in one of them.

3—Carrying a comb that has never seen soap and water. Clean hair and a dirty comb don't make a good team. And a soiled comb is poor evidence of daintiness, an important part of feminine appeal. Why not use a small pocket-size comb, anyway, instead of the big-full-size bedroom-type comb that many of you stuff into your school bag? And give it a bath every time you shampoo your hair.

Solons Label Caudle 'Honest' After Hearing About 'Uncle'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—T. Lamar Caudle has had "an honest man" label pinned on him by House investigators of the Justice Department.

But the former assistant attorney general carried away criticism to the effect that he was "indiscreet in his associations and a pliant conformer to the peculiar moral climate of Washington."

Chairman Chelf (D-Ky) and Rep. Keating (R-NY) of a judiciary subcommittee gave their verdict in a joint statement Wednesday after Caudle wound up about a week of testimony on his life and times in administration circles.

And the probers left the door open for former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath to return for more testimony on what he knows about the White House, if he desires.

Caudle had testified that McGrath told him:

"I know enough about the White House to blow it so high it would be another satellite in the orbit and the force of gravity would never bring it back to earth."

* * *

AND THE FORMER Justice Department also told about the bright afternoon he and his wife spent at Jamaica Race Track and their joust with Uncle Edgar.

They went to the track, said Lamar Caudle, because a handicapper named Colonel Hallow asked them and he is a "very able handicapper." He continued:

"The colonel said they had a sorry bunch of horses running that day, but one horse in the seventh race was all right. And he gave us the daily double and thought it would win.

"He said they were sorry, trifling horses. We bet on the thing and the daily double came in and it paid about $23 for a $2 bet.

"Then we sat there and did not bet any more and then about that time the seventh race came up.

"The colonel said: 'Now, Lamar, here is the best horse in the race.'

"The horse was named Uncle Edgar."

Caudle chuckles and says, "I wondered who that horse was named after. It may have been named after the FBI director."

J. Edgar Hoover. Get it?

"Well I slipped out and bet $90 on the horse, the most I ever bet on a horse.

"I found Mrs. Caudle slipped out and bet $30 on the same Uncle.

* * *

"WE KNEW THIS horse was going to win," says Caudle. "That horse just got out in front and won that race by about six lengths.

"It was the finest horse race I ever saw, Mr. Chairman," Caudle says to Rep. Chelf, who is a Kentucky Democrat and probably hears now and then about horse races.

Well, this Uncle Edgar pays $9.23 for every $2 bet which is a lot of green, and Caudle says he slaps most of it into a down payment on a mink coat that his wife is sighing for.

But then the journals start talking about this coat and pretty soon you hear "mink, mink, mink, everywhere," Caudle says. "They even called me the mink man."

And he sighs and you can see he is hurt by what Uncle Edgar had done to him.

Killer Given Life Without Pardon

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Lawrence Goldsby, killer of a policeman and three passengers on a crowded bus, must spend the rest of his life in prison—without hope of pardon.

The jury gave this verdict Thursday after discussing the case for nine hours. During the trial no one questioned that the 21-year - old drifter grabbed a gun from Patrolman Eugene D. Stinchcomb, 56, and killed the policeman and three passengers May 12 in a crowded bus here.

Ohio Crime Rate Below U.S. Par

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The crime rate in Ohio cities was below the national average during the first half of this year, the FBI reports.

An FBI bulletin lists these rates (national averages first, followed by Ohio averages—all in number of cases for each 100,000 people):

Robbery—26.6 and 21.7—serious assaults—37.2 and 20; burglaries—189.2 and 149.3; larceny—478.2 and 462.3; and auto theft—93.8 and 63.6.

British Ships, Red Artillery Trade Shots

HONG KONG, Sept. 25—(AP)—Two British warships and Communist shore batteries traded fire Thursday after the Reds swarmed over a British-operated passenger vessel and forcibly removed two Chinese.

Commodore Harold G. Dickinson, Hong Kong naval chief, said the destroyer Consort and the frigate Mounts Bay returned fire on Red shore batteries after they were fired upon following the raid.

Dickinson said the 1,900-ton passenger ship Takshing was 5¼ miles west of British-held Lantao Island and 10 miles east of Macau when a gunboat and launch, "both flying the Chinese Communist flag," drew alongside.

Dickinson said the gunboat fired two bursts from a machinegun and one shell from a four-pounder at the Takshing, hitting her in the stern but inflicting no other damage.

He said the Reds then ordered the British vessel to proceed to nearby Red-held Lapsapmei Island, where Communist armed guards "forcibly removed" two Chinese passengers.

The Consort and Mounts Bay arrived at the scene at 6:55 a. m. and patrolled the area until 7:50 a. m. when the Communist shore batteries opened up from Lapsapmei. The British warships were not hit, Dickinson said.

Draft Board Tells Discharge Routine

Local Selective Service offices say there apparently is no basis for a report that some draftees, upon completion of their service, are being told they'll be "eligible for the draft again in 90 days."

It was explained that "regulations just aren't set up in that manner" and that draftees coming out of service are reclassified to a veteran's status.

The report, which originated locally, was attributed to a misunderstanding either by an individual officer or servicemen being briefed at the time of their discharge.

18 Commies Indicted By Grand Juries

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Eighteen second-string Communist Party leaders, rounded up by the FBI last week, have been indicted on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the United States government by force.

Federal grand juries Wednesday returned indictments against seven in Seattle and five in St. Louis. The six others were indicted in Detroit Monday.

The action, announced by the Justice Department, charge violations of the Smith Act. This law prohibits the advocacy or teaching of the violent overthrow of the federal government. It provides penalties up to $10,000 fine, 10 years imprisonment, or both.

The 18 party functionaries were picked up Sept. 17 by the FBI in Midwest cities and on the West Coast. They are alleged to have inherited party leadership after the convictions two years ago of the highest Communist officials in this country.

Since it began moving against the party under the Smith Act in 1948, the government has obtained more than 80 indictments and has convicted more than a score of party leaders.

The Seattle indictment charged the seven defendants with 16 specific overt conspiracy actions. The St. Louis indictment charged the five there with 15 specific overt acts. The six indicted in Detroit were charged with 17 specific overt actions.

2 Men Hurt In Accident; Driver Sought

Two men were injured and a search starated for a third man in a headon crash of two cars late Wednesday on Route 23 just south of Little Walnut.

The accident happened at about 9:05 p. m. Wednesday when a Northbound auto operated by Phillip Harris, 41, of Columbus, was in collision with an auto stolen earlier from Columbus.

State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller of Circleville arrested Joseph Lewis Jr., 29, of Columbus, for investigation following the mishap.

Lewis told the patrolman he had been asleep on the rear seat of the stolen car when the accident happened. Impact of the crash threw him from the car.

AT THE SAME time, Lewis said the auto was operated by a man he identified only as "William," who fled the scene. The auto reportedly operated by "William" was owned by Clarence Brown of Columbus.

Both autos were virtually demolished in the crash.

Harris was treated in Berger hospital for a possible jaw fracture and lacerations and abrasions of the face, knees and chest.

Lewis, in being thrown from the car, suffered abrasions of the forehead and body bruises. He is being held in the city jail.

House May Mar Battlefield, Fear

BATTLE, England, Sept. 25—(AP)—Britain may have a housing shortage, but local citizens say the battlefield of Hastings—1066 and all that—isn't the place for a housing project.

Speakers said the project would mar the landscape where William the Conqueror and his Normans vanquished the Saxon forces of King Harold in 1066.

Elinor Williams'

Teen Tips

Everybody agrees that 'teen girls have pretty hair, because most of you keep it shining-clean and well-brushed. But there's nothing attractive about some of the hair-habits of high-schoolers that offend other people so often.

What are they? Check your good-grooming, appearance and manners with this list of "pet peeves" sent in by readers:

1—Combing your hair in public. This includes combing your tresses on busses, in theaters and, worst of all, in restaurants where dirt, dust and dandruff from your locks makes nearby food unsanitary and unappetizing for others. If you MUST comb your hair every 10 minutes, find a powder room or rest room where you can do it right . . .without annoying other people.

2—Pin-curls in public. They look gruesome. If you really have to take your pin-curls into your public life, cover them. No, a soiled, bedraggled three-cornered cotton scarf won't do; it looks as ugly as the pin-curls. Try, instead, one of the fashion-wise coverings for pin-curls that you'll find in department stores. Some look like turbans, little hats or caps and are much more likely to be becoming. You'll look fully dressed in one of them.

3—Carrying a comb that has never seen soap and water. Clean hair and a dirty comb don't make a good team. And a soiled comb is poor evidence of daintiness, an important part of feminine appeal. Why not use a small pocket-size comb, anyway, instead of the big-full-size bedroom-type comb that many of you stuff into your school bag? And give it a bath every time you shampoo your hair.

Cop Reporter Hands It Over

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Hollywood to the contrary notwithstanding, a newspaper police reporter reacts just about like you would if a gunman asked you to "hand it over."

Albuquerque Tribune Reporter Bill Slevin was held up as he entered his apartment by a bandit with a gun "as big as a cannon." He told Slevin to "hand it over." Slevin did.

Two Motorists Fined $15 Here

Two motorists were fined here Wednesday in the court of Magistrate Oscar Root.

Victor Murray Dagenais, 55, of Ashtabula, was fined $5 and costs for crossing a yellow line north of the city on Route 23. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jim Diltz.

Jay Timmons of Circleville Route 3 was fined $10 and costs for reckless operation of a motor vehicle. The accusation was in connection with an accident on Route 56 last Sunday.

Timmons was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Walter Richards.

Looking Ahead

By George Benson
President
Hardin College

Don't make the mistake I did! While browsing through some old newspaper files I came upon a grocery store advertisement in a 12-year-old newspaper.

This is what was advertised: No. 2 can of tomatoes—5 cents. Head of lettuce—7½ cents. Round steak—25 cents per pound ($1.25 per pound today)!

All the other groceries were priced unbelievably low. This ad would shock anyone. Its significance was bolstered by an article in the September issue of the American Legion Magazine entitled "Why You Have Trouble Making Ends Meet."

The article was written by Donald R. Wilson, national Legion commander. The sub-headline explained its contents: "What you should know about our phony prosperity, and the danger it presents to every one of us and to the nation as well."

Commander Wilson takes up the case of a typical G.I. couple, Jane and Joe Thompson. The successes, the setbacks, the hopes and the disappointments of this couple strikingly show what a "prosperity" based on war spending and government borrowing really means in terms of the family budget.

* * *

BEFORE THE war, Joe made $25 a week and he thought it fair pay for a youngster. In 1946, just out of the Army, he got $55 a week. The cost of living was 40 per cent higher, and Joe married Jane. Joe got raises periodically, but the rise in prices ate them up.

The first Thompson child was born in 1948. Expenses mounted. A second baby came in 1950. Joe now was making $75 a week, but he was now paying $326 income taxes annually in spite of exemptions for the children.

In January 1951, the Thompsons figured that, financially speaking, they were about where they were in 1946.

Joe got a $5 raise in January 1952—$260 a year increase. And the central purpose of this American Legion article is to show "how much of that $260 is theirs to keep and how much is just 'stage money'."

The answer, says the American Legion, will apply to a lot of other people too.

"For Joe, with his $75 a week," the article says, 'isn't far from being the average U. S. wage earner. And Jane, with two children to bring up, is about the typical U. S. housewife."

The first big bite into the $260 raise is taken by federal taxes. Partly because of the raise, and partly because of a tax rate hike, Joe's income tax jumped from $326 to $405 in 1952, an increase of $80.

That left $180 to the good. But the rising cost of living began to whittle away. The Thompson family of four required about one-third of Joe's earnings for food, and between January 1952 and July 1952 food prices rose, and they continued to rise after July.

* * *

ABOUT 13 per cent of the Thompson's money went for clothing. Apparel dropped slightly the first six months, but then began to rise early in the Fall. Approximately 20 per cent of Joe's income was earmarked for rent, fuel and house furnishings.

Their coal bill went up, and furniture and appliances did too, the Legion article says. The remaining 30 per cent of Joe's income was earmarked for "miscellaneous"—doctor bills, gas for the automobile, cigarettes, utilities, family spending money; and it simply doesn't go a sfar as it did in 1951.

Legion Commander Wilson says most economists expect the cost of living to go up something like 5 per cent in a 12-months period. The rise doesn't come in a straight line.

Prices may hang steady, or drop a bit, along with the rises. But from January to January the result will be an increase of about 5 per cent.

So there goes about $175 for the Thompsons (5 per cent of income, after taxes). The Thompsons, then, have only $5 left out of the $260 raise!

"What has happened," observes Commander Wilson, "is that Joe and all the rest of us have been playing an elaborate game of make-believe—and playing it on ourselves.

"We have been blowing our incomes up—and blowing prices up right along with them. And we have been kidding ourselves that somehow we were getting ahead in the process."

But when we strike a balance, we see that most of us aren't getting ahead. High taxes and other government policies which feed inflation and make the future stability of the dollar shaky are actually holding back progress—and if permitted to continue long enough they will kill this nation's capacity for progress.

We must quit kidding ourselves and work toward a sane stable economy.

High Court Asked To Overrule Hike

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—(AP)—Seven cities Tuesday asked the Ohio Supreme Court to overrule a utilities commission order granting a $1,032,600 rate increase to the Ohio Associated Telephone Co.

The cities are Jackson, Wellston, Oak Hill, Coalton, Marion, Hamden and New Philadelphia. The commission order was issued Feb. 20 and was based on inadequate return on the company's investment.

Strike Continues

FINDLAY, Sept. 25 — (AP) — The strike of more than 25 city bus and taxi drivers for a 25 per cent pay hike entered its fifth day Wednesday with no negotiations between union and management in prospect.

Looking Ahead

By George Benson
President
Hardin College

Don't make the mistake I did! While browsing through some old newspaper files I came upon a grocery store advertisement in a 12-year-old newspaper.

This is what was advertised: No. 2 can of tomatoes—5 cents. Head of lettuce—7½ cents. Round steak—25 cents per pound ($1.25 per pound today)!

All the other groceries were priced unbelievably low. This ad would shock anyone. Its significance was bolstered by an article in the September issue of the American Legion Magazine entitled "Why You Have Trouble Making Ends Meet."

The article was written by Donald R. Wilson, national Legion commander. The sub-headline explained its contents: "What you should know about our phony prosperity, and the danger it presents to every one of us and to the nation as well."

Commander Wilson takes up the case of a typical G.I. couple, Jane and Joe Thompson. The successes, the setbacks, the hopes and the disappointments of this couple strikingly show what a "prosperity" based on war spending and government borrowing really means in terms of the family budget.

* * *

BEFORE THE war, Joe made $25 a week and he thought it fair pay for a youngster. In 1946, just out of the Army, he got $55 a week. The cost of living was 40 per cent higher, and Joe married Jane. Joe got raises periodically, but the rise in prices ate them up.

The first Thompson child was born in 1948. Expenses mounted. A second baby came in 1950. Joe now was making $75 a week, but he was now paying $326 income taxes annually in spite of exemptions for the children.

In January 1951, the Thompsons figured that, financially speaking, they were about where they were in 1946.

Joe got a $5 raise in January 1952—$260 a year increase. And the central purpose of this American Legion article is to show "how much of that $260 is theirs to keep and how much is just 'stage money'."

The answer, says the American Legion, will apply to a lot of other people too.

"For Joe, with his $75 a week," the article says, 'isn't far from being the average U. S. wage earner. And Jane, with two children to bring up, is about the typical U. S. housewife."

The first big bite into the $260 raise is taken by federal taxes. Partly because of the raise, and partly because of a tax rate hike, Joe's income tax jumped from $326 to $405 in 1952, an increase of $80.

That left $180 to the good. But the rising cost of living began to whittle away. The Thompson family of four required about one-third of Joe's earnings for food, and between January 1952 and July 1952 food prices rose, and they continued to rise after July.

* * *

ABOUT 13 per cent of the Thompson's money went for clothing. Apparel dropped slightly the first six months, but then began to rise early in the Fall. Approximately 20 per cent of Joe's income was earmarked for rent, fuel and house furnishings.

Their coal bill went up, and furniture and appliances did too, the Legion article says. The remaining 30 per cent of Joe's income was earmarked for "miscellaneous"—doctor bills, gas for the automobile, cigarettes, utilities, family spending money; and it simply doesn't go a sfar as it did in 1951.

Legion Commander Wilson says most economists expect the cost of living to go up something like 5 per cent in a 12-months period. The rise doesn't come in a straight line.

Prices may hang steady, or drop a bit, along with the rises. But from January to January the result will be an increase of about 5 per cent.

So there goes about $175 for the Thompsons (5 per cent of income, after taxes). The Thompsons, then, have only $5 left out of the $260 raise!

"What has happened," observes Commander Wilson, "is that Joe and all the rest of us have been playing an elaborate game of make-believe—and playing it on ourselves.

"We have been blowing our incomes up—and blowing prices up right along with them. And we have been kidding ourselves that somehow we were getting ahead in the process."

But when we strike a balance, we see that most of us aren't getting ahead. High taxes and other government policies which feed inflation and make the future stability of the dollar shaky are actually holding back progress—and if permitted to continue long enough they will kill this nation's capacity for progress.

We must quit kidding ourselves and work toward a sane stable economy.

High Court Asked To Overrule Hike

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—(AP)—Seven cities Tuesday asked the Ohio Supreme Court to overrule a utilities commission order granting a $1,032,600 rate increase to the Ohio Associated Telephone Co.

The cities are Jackson, Wellston, Oak Hill, Coalton, Marion, Hamden and New Philadelphia. The commission order was issued Feb. 20 and was based on inadequate return on the company's investment.

Strike Continues

FINDLAY, Sept. 25 — (AP) — The strike of more than 25 city bus and taxi drivers for a 25 per cent pay hike entered its fifth day Wednesday with no negotiations between union and management in prospect.

Moral: Never Tell Wifey About Your Dolls—You May Be Stuck

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK— (AP) —In all the world there was nothing that Craig Bleak really liked. He was so mean even the cat in his own home arched her back and spat whenever he came near.

"Craig doesn't really mean the things he says," his wife, Mary, loyally defended him. "It's his poor health.'

But if anything had made Craig ill it was his spiteful nature. And in time he alienated everyone except Mary and Henry Holesome, who worked in the bank with him. Craig hated them both—Mary, because she stood by him; Henry, because he kept rising in rank while Craig remained in his same old post in a teller's cage.

"I know why Henry keeps hanging around here—the fool's in love with you," Craig taunted his wife. "If I dropped dead, he'd want to marry you the next day."

And Mayola, their maid, who overheard the remark, thought to herself it probably was the only true thing Craig ever had said. Mayola came from Haiti, and believed in black magic.

The day Henry finally was elevated to a vice presidency Craig Bleak came home in a vile temper.

"You ought to be glad he was promoted," said Mary, and it was then Craig slapped her. He went out in the kitchen and saw Mayola She held a small object in her hand and was muttering over it.

"What is that?" demanded Craig.

"Nothing," said Mayola, hiding the object behind her.

"Let's see it," insisted Craig sternly.

Reluctantly, Mayola held out the object, a tiny man - shaped doll. Fixed to its toe by a pin was a piece of paper that said "Sam."

"He's my boy friend, and he's been cheating on me," explained Mayola. "I'm gettin' even by puttin' the voodoo hoodoo on him. Ever' place I sticks a pin in it with his name on it—that's where it hurts him."

"Does it work?" asked Craig.

"It does where I come from," said Mayola. "Anything you believe in hard enough comes true, Mista Bleak."

"I'll give you $5 for that doll," said Craig. He took it, and as Mayola happily held out her hand he said, "don't worry I'll pay you later—maybe."

The next morning at breakfast he put a scrap of paper saying "Henry" on the doll's shoulder and stuck a thumb tack into it.

"I'll fix your lover boy," he told Mary.

"You must be losing your mind," she said.

Craig came home that night in a fine mood.

"Henry moaned all day about having arthritis in his shoulder," he exulted. "How do you like that?"

Mary paled in fear.

"Well, I think we'll start giving your lover boy an ulcer now," Craig said the following morning, and pushed four thumbtacks into the doll's abdomen.

He locked the doll in a desk.

When Mayola arrived, a weeping Mary told her what had happened.

"That husban' of yours is jus' too mean for this world," said Mayola grimly. "Kin you open that desk?"

Mary searched until she found a key, opened the desk, and pulled the thumbtacks out of the doll.

"I know it is all a lot of nonsense, Mayola," she said. "But take this horrible thing out and throw it down the incinerator."

She went into her bedroom and fell asleep a few minutes later. The telephone awoke her.

"I have terrible news for you, Mary," said Henry's voice. "Craig. . . .Craig suddenly keeled over a few minutes ago. Before we could even get a doctor he—."

Mary screamed. She dropped the telephone.

"Mayola! Mayola!" she cried. She ran into the kitkhen. It was empty. On the drainboard lay stretched a tiny doll.

A nail protruded from its left chest and to the nail clung a scrap of paper. Mary snatched up the doll and read:

"Goodbye Mista Bleak."

Moral: Never Tell Wifey About Your Dolls—You May Be Stuck

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK— (AP) —In all the world there was nothing that Craig Bleak really liked. He was so mean even the cat in his own home arched her back and spat whenever he came near.

"Craig doesn't really mean the things he says," his wife, Mary, loyally defended him. "It's his poor health."

But if anything had made Craig ill it was his spiteful nature. And in time he alienated everyone except Mary and Henry Holesome, who worked in the bank with him. Craig hated them both—Mary, because she stood by him; Henry, because he kept rising in rank while Craig remained in his same old post in a teller's cage.

"I know why Henry keeps hanging around here—the fool's in love with you," Craig taunted his wife. "If I dropped dead, he'd want to marry you the next day."

And Mayola, their maid, who overheard the remark, thought to herself it probably was the only true thing Craig ever had said. Mayola came from Haiti, and believed in black magic.

The day Henry finally was elevated to a vice presidency Craig Bleak came home in a vile temper.

"You ought to be glad he was promoted," said Mary, and it was then Craig slapped her. He went out in the kitchen and saw Mayola She held a small object in her hand and was muttering over it.

"What is that?" demanded Craig.

"Nothing," said Mayola, hiding the object behind her.

"Let's see it," insisted Craig sternly.

Reluctantly, Mayola held out the object, a tiny man - shaped doll. Fixed to its toe by a pin was a piece of paper that said "Sam."

"He's my boy friend, and he's been cheating on me," explained Mayola. "I'm gettin' even by puttin' the voodoo hoodoo on him. Ever' place I sticks a pin in it with his name on it—that's where it hurts him."

"Does it work?" asked Craig.

"It does where I come from," said Mayola. "Anything you believe in hard enough comes true, Mista Bleak."

"I'll give you $5 for that doll," said Craig. He took it, and as Mayola happily held out her hand he said, "don't worry I'll pay you later—maybe."

The next morning at breakfast he put a scrap of paper saying "Henry" on the doll's shoulder and stuck a thumb tack into it.

"I'll fix your lover boy," he told Mary.

"You must be losing your mind," she said.

Craig came home that night in a fine mood.

"Henry moaned all day about having arthritis in his shoulder," he exulted. "How do you like that?"

Mary paled in fear.

"Well, I think we'll start giving your lover boy an ulcer now," Craig said the following morning, and pushed four thumbtacks into the doll's abdomen.

He locked the doll in a desk.

When Mayola arrived, a weeping Mary told her what had happened.

"That husban' of yours is jus' too mean for this world," said Mayola grimly. "Kin you open that desk?"

Mary searched until she found a key, opened the desk, and pulled the thumbtacks out of the doll.

"I know it is all a lot of nonsense, Mayola," she said. "But take this horrible thing out and throw it down the incinerator."

She went into her bedroom and fell asleep a few minutes later. The telephone awoke her.

"I have terrible news for you, Mary," said Henry's voice. "Craig. . . .Craig suddenly keeled over a few minutes ago. Before we could even get a doctor he—."

Mary screamed. She dropped the telephone.

"Mayola! Mayola!" she cried. She ran into the kitkhen. It was empty. On the drainboard lay stretched a tiny doll.

A nail protruded from its left chest and to the nail clung a scrap of paper. Mary snatched up the doll and read:

"Goodbye Mista Bleak."

NEW PIONEER

CONSIDERABLE SPACE in the history of American development is allotted to the story of the hardy pioneer who crossed the wide spaces in a covered wagon or on horseback and battled the Indians, the elements and whatever needed to be battled.

But, it now seems, the strength of the hardy pioneer and his willingness to undergo all manner of hardships has not been lost with the passage of time and the development of civilization. This was demonstrated a few days ago when an Iowa farmer completed a 2,000-mile trek to California at the wheel of a tractor.

There were compensations, though. Herbert Lang, the 52-year-old farmer from Iowa who accomplished the amazing trip, says that at the 18-miles-an-hour rate he averaged across country he had plenty of time to see the scenery. It is to be hoped that Lang has not started a precedent. Transcontinental highways provide sufficient hazards without adding a multitude of farm tractors to the traffic pattern.

EASY ON WHEAT GROWERS

BIG WHEAT SURPLUSES, WITH somewhat lower return to growers, are forecast unless planting for next year's crop is reduced. With this year's production estimated at nearly 1.5 billion bushels and prices now below support levels, the Department of Agriculture manifests concern as to the situation that would ensue should foreign demand for United States wheat decline.

The department admits that the wheat supply last June had reached the point to justify imposing acreage allotment and marketing controls on the 1953 crop in accordance with the farm act. Instead of using its authority, the department has limited action to counseling voluntary acreage reductions of at least eight per cent.

The reasons are not given for what amounts to a government hands-off policy. But many farmers do not like to be told how much they can raise. They have been quite vocal about it, and this is a presidential election year.

Man formerly had trouble understanding women. Now both Washington and women have him baffled.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

For several years, I have called attention to the inadequate salaries and allowances paid to our members of Congress. While the President's allowances have been lavishly increased, even to the extent of making part of his perquisites tax-exempt, members of the House of Representatives and the Senate find it difficult to make ends meet.

Many of them have added to their income by listing their wives as secretaries, in one form or another. Some are members of law firms with the attendant embarrassment of questionable clients. Just as Harry Truman, when he was Senator, added his wife to his office payroll, so has Alben Barkley, as Vice President, increased his income by public lectures at high fees.

Our legislators face the problem that unless they possess inherited wealth or assets earned prior to becoming members of the Congress, their financial problems are, for many of them, a source of embarrassment. What is true of them is also true of some Cabinet officers. It is not a secret that such a man as James A. Farley left the Postmaster-Generalship heavily in debt.

Many members of Congress find that when income taxes, the cost of being elected to office, the cost of keeping before the public, even if only locally, are added together, little is left for the maintenance of a residence in Washington as well as at home.

I have, over the years, known much about the private affairs of many members of Congress and I can say that some are doing a public service at the sacrifice of their families, while others have to find some extra-curricular activities which they would rather not do.

The cost of being a national legislator is so prohibitive that many suitable men, whose talents ought to be available to the country, simply cannot afford to enter upon such a career. It is much sounder to become an assistant in a bureau or to a Cabinet officer, stay a few years to make connections, and then join a law firm where such advantages will be rated satisfactorily.

Richard Nixon has served his country well. His work in uncovering the Alger Hiss case is deserving of the public recognition which he has received. He has not attained seniority in the Senate to have much of a record in that body. That takes years as things go there.

His error has been in attempting to do differently what so many of his colleagues do. What he did was to ask a number of citizens of his state to set up a fund to circulate his speeches, to provide for radio time, to interest the voters on his behalf. He maintained a permanent campaign fund. It is unfortunate that he did not announce that he was doing precisely that. I receive speeches, printed by the Government, from a large number of members of Congress. Sometimes the notation appears, "not printed at Government expense."

But no statement appears to say who pays the bill. Is it the N.A.M., the C.I.O.,

Arthritis In Young Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOST people think of arthritis as a disease that mainly affects adults and the aged. Arthritis in young children is not too uncommon, however. Some doctors have reported that almost five per cent of arthritis patients they have seen were children.

Arthritis in children differs a great deal from the disease of older people, producing various conditions not present in the adult. For example, fever may be the first symptom in a child.

Suspect Symptoms

Whenever a child has a fever and its cause cannot be determined, he should, at least, be suspected of developing a case of arthritis. If the lymph glands are enlarged throughout the body, this may be further indication of arthritis. Another symptom may be enlargement of the spleen, a large organ in the abdomen.

In a child, arthritis may first involve a single one of the large joints, such as the knee, hip, or ankle. This is much different from the disease in adults, where the small joints, such as those of the fingers, are the first to suffer. The child's joints become red and very tender.

Signs in Blood

At this stage, the blood may also show a decrease in the number of white corpuscles, which is important evidence of arthritis. Another sign is an increase in the sedimentation rate, a test to measure any infection present in the body.

It is thought that about forty per cent of children with rheumatoid arthritis recover completely. There is some tendency for the disease to come to a halt when they reach adolescence. The ankles and joints seem to improve better than the elbows and wrists.

No Definite Treatment

As yet, no definite treatment for rheumatoid arthritis in children has been discovered. However, doctors can take steps to build up a child's general health and reduce the permanent damage. It is important for such children to get plenty of rest and careful watching.

ACTH and cortisone, two newly discovered hormones, give dramatic results in relieving arthritis symptoms, but such relief is temporary. When the treatments are stopped, symptoms return. At the present time doctors are still experimenting with these drugs in treating arthritis of children.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. Y.: Lately my husband has been drinking to excess. He seems to be taken by a strange urge and craving for liquor. After these drinking sprees he is always very sorry and depressed, and once he even attempted suicide. Up until this time he has always been a very quiet man and a moderate drinker. Can you help me?

Answer: It is likely that your husband is suffering from dipsomania. He is probably emotionally unstable and thus given to sudden desires for alcohol. He should consult a psychiatrist as soon as possible.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

NANCE frankly dawdled over dressing for her date with Rolph, hoping for a call from Jeremy before she left. But it was hardly likely at this hour. He'd be making his house calls. The minutes jerked by on the tiny electric clock on the dressing table, and when Rolph came for her there was still no word from Jeremy.

She put on an extra touch of bright lipstick, decided on the silver star clips for her hair, after all, and went out to Rolph, who was admiring Tabitha with Kit in the living room.

It was, Nance admitted, an interesting evening. Rolph danced well, talked amusingly, and seemed on hand-waving terms with a number of people.

Halfway through the evening, he beckoned a party over to their table. The Carlsons, who were in radio. The Carter Granahams, who collaborated on the book-length novels which were appearing regularly in the popular magazines. Gordon Killoran, a lawyer, and his pretty wife, Mavis. And Steve Raymond, a grave, lean man who seemed, Nance thought, a little bored with Libby Oliver, the pretty blonde girl who clung to his arm.

Nance found herself watching Steve Raymond, hazarding reasons for the chip he was so belligerently wearing, and a little sorry for the girl he was treating so offhandedly.

She mentioned it to Rolph, on the way home.

"Steve Raymond? Steve had a rather rough experience, recently. Married and divorced within the year. He was well out of it, I thought. Most of his friends feel the same. Although his wife was one of the most beautiful women I have ever seen."

"Where does Libby fit in?"

"Old friend, from cradle days. Libby consistently works on a change of status, though. But . . . Yet why not? She simply dropped out of our lives. None of us knows where she is. Why not Thurstonia? And if the two Eves were identical, what then?

Nothing, really. Rolph had obscurely hinted at personal dislike, but men often did not like their friends' wives.

And supposing the two Eves were the same? Eve hadn't mentioned a previous marriage, but that didn't necessarily imply intentional concealment. You just didn't say, "How do you do," and "I'm divorced!" in the same breath. If Eve chose not to talk of her divorce, it was her own affair, wasn't it? Nance abandoned conjecture, pulled back the sheets, got into bed.

Jeremy called the following evening.

"I'm sorry I missed yesterday's call," Nance said.

"It's all right."

"I had dinner with Rolph."

"Oh?"

But he wasn't interested. Not in that, nor in any of the pathways she opened almost desperately for easy, casual talk. They did the weather thoroughly, exchanged states of health, and came to mumbling monosyllables at each other until they, too, petered out.

Nance at length replaced the receiver almost with relief.

Kit, across the room, murmured, "Everything all right?"

"I'm not jilted," Nance said, "yet."

Jeremy hadn't mentioned Eve. Nance wished he had. His avoidance of her name became all at once enormously significant. But perhaps jealousy hacked common sense into fantastic shapes, and blurred clarity of thinking, she reassured herself.

Yet when, a week later, Nance discovered that Eve Romley was the girl who had been Steve Raymond's wife, all her misgivings came swarming back.

Their Soviet bosses now dictate to East Germans when and where they must spend their vacations. Wonder what resort spot the Red rulers favor—Siberia?

Zadok Dumkopf is willing to wager that in Sovietland those "Am having fine time" postcards are obligatory.

Even the vacation menus are dictated by the Commie powers-that-be. How those East Germans must get tired of a diet of red herring, three times a day! ... ...

To the Communist mind, relaxing at one's own discretion is the lowest form of subversive inactivity.

In East Germany it isn't "Where'll it be, dear—the sea shore or the country?"—it's strictly, "What does Stalin think about it?"

At a Baltic resort recently vacationers were forced to work six days repairing and improving the beach installations and then they had to attend political meetings. That's strictly vacation without play!

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—President Truman will charge that General Eisenhower must share responsibility for the postwar breakdown of our war machine and for crossing off Korea as militarily vital territory, when he "whistle stops" across the country next month. It will be a major effort to absolve his administration of "bungling" these problems.

Ike has declared that Truman had "allowed America, at a time when strength was needed, to become weak." He has said that Truman's indifference toward the Russian menace in the Far East, as well as the refusal to support China, had virtually invited the Communists to invade South Korea.

Democratic spokesmen retort that Eisenhower was chief of staff during this period of alleged neglect of American interests, military and diplomatic. But Truman, in his homely style, will try to get himself off the hook. Since he is the main defendant, the task has been entrusted to him rather than to Governor Stevenson.

* * *

BUDGETS—Republican strategists profess no fear of this presidential barrage. In fact, they say they welcome it because they have made as intensive a study of all available records on the question as the White House has conducted. It is expected that many hitherto unknown secrets will be divulged in the debate.

Ike's first exhibit will be a listing of postwar military budgets, with official records that they were cut progressively by Truman over the protest of Pentagon advisers, headed by the late James V. Forrestal, then secretary of defense. The minutes of White House conferences and directives are available.

Here was the trend of defense funds as measured by the military budgets: 1946—$45 billion; 1947—$11.5 billion; 1948 — $9.7 billion; 1949—$13.9 billion; 1950—$13 billion; 1951 — $48.4 billion; 1952—$60.4 billion. South Korea was invaded on June 25, 1950.

* * *

WARNINGS — Meanwhile, as his files reveal, Eisenhower was delivering solemn warnings to Congress, businessmen and Budget Bureau directors against precipitate reductions. As early as 1946, he told Capitol Hill that the rapid demobilization was "almost without a safety factor. The operating efficiency of troops left in the United States is very low. Our planes cannot fly except in meager numbers for lack of trained ground crews to service them."

On retiring as chief of staff to head SHAPE in February, 1948, Ike left a final memo for Truman and Forrestal. His major point was the steadily developing weakness of the army. He said:

"It is already 100,000 men short of the authorized strength. The modest emergency force of 2 1-3 divisions is below strength. One of two things will happen. Either there must be action to hold the army at existing level, or it will continue to waste away until the occupation of Germany and the Far East will be impossible. The areas involved will have to be abandoned to chaos and Communism."

* * *

SUBSISTENCE—In spite of this report, the 1949 and 1950 funds allowed by Truman were far below Pentagon requests, including Ike's successors.' They amounted to only subsistence money, with no provision for expansion or experimentation. Simultaneously, inflation reduced the purchasing power of the military dollar, as it did everybody else's.

Yet it was in 1948 that, on the advice of Gen. George C. Marshall and Dean Acheson, the Administration embarked on a program of large - scale aid to Greece, Turkey and Western Europe—definite threats and provocation to a Russia growing increasingly aggressive and hostile, as former Ambassador Harriman regularly reported from Moscow.

EVIDENCE — Truman's handling of the 1949 defense budget will be the key evidence against the Administration. Truman demanded that it be kept below $15 billion. Speaking for the JCS, Forrestal said prophetically:

"Our occupation forces in Korea have diminished to a point (20,000) where it is doubtful if we can continue to maintain troops in that country. Our occupation forces in Germany and Japan are at a minimum. Our mobile forces for home defense are only 30,000."

Truman compromised — downward. He allowed an extra $464 million that had been denied by the Budget Bureau on condition it not be spent without his approval. When Congress increased Air Force funds to provide seventy groups, he refused to use the money, keeping strength at 58 units. The final budget was only $13.9 billion. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950—or five days after the attack on South Korea—military funds were cut further to $13 billion.

Principal advocate for getting out of Korea was the late Robert Patterson, then secretary of war. He complained of the expense and the "insignificance of the strategic and economic value of Korea." Marshall strongly opposed this viewpoint.

PROPOSAL — In August, 1946, Eisenhower made a proposal which will undoubtedly be used against him, although he advanced it as only a tentative idea and subject to Truman's approval.

Ike suggested a Pacific defense perimeter extending from Japan through the Ryukyus Islands and thence to the Philippines. This would have eliminated Korea as a sphere of American interest. When he submitted this program, however, all China had not fallen under Moscow's domination.

When Acheson stated it publicly as settled American foreign policy in January, 1950, the Reds had grown so powerful through their alliance with Mao Tse-tung, and we had become so weak in South Korea and Japan, that it served as an invitation to attack.

"The Rorschach test" is widely used by psychiatrists today to get an insight into the mentality and personality of new patients. That test consists of a series of cards, with different abstract designs thereon, which are shown to the patient one by one. The patient must report what each design suggests to him, and from his answers, sometimes short, sometimes wandering on for long stretches, the experienced analyst can draw a number of pertinent conclusions. The test is named after its Swiss inventor, Dr. Hermann Rorschach—There comes from the Bronx the story of one analyst who decided to use the Rorschach Test on a troublesome new case. He flashed the first card on the bewildered patient and asked quietly, "Now what does this design suggest to you?" The patient peered at it a moment, then begged, "Look, Doctor, we both went to P. S. 46, didn't we? Give me a hint!"

NEW PIONEER

CONSIDERABLE SPACE in the history of American development is allotted to the story of the hardy pioneer who crossed the wide spaces in a covered wagon or on horseback and battled the Indians, the elements and whatever needed to be battled.

But, it now seems, the strength of the hardy pioneer and his willingness to undergo all manner of hardships has not been lost with the passage of time and the development of civilization. This was demonstrated a few days ago when an Iowa farmer completed a 2,000-mile trek to California at the wheel of a tractor.

There were compensations, though. Herbert Lang, the 52-year-old farmer from Iowa who accomplished the amazing trip, says that at the 18-miles-an-hour rate he averaged across country he had plenty of time to see the scenery. It is to be hoped that Lang has not started a precedent. Transcontinental highways provide sufficient hazards without adding a multitude of farm tractors to the traffic pattern.

EASY ON WHEAT GROWERS

BIG WHEAT SURPLUSES, WITH somewhat lower return to growers, are forecast unless planting for next year's crop is reduced. With this year's production estimated at nearly 1.5 billion bushels and prices now below support levels, the Department of Agriculture manifests concern as to the situation that would ensue should foreign demand for United States wheat decline.

The department admits that the wheat supply last June had reached the point to justify imposing acreage allotment and marketing controls on the 1953 crop in accordance with the farm act. Instead of using its authority, the department has limited action to counseling voluntary acreage reductions of at least eight per cent.

The reasons are not given for what amounts to a government hands-off policy. But many farmers do not like to be told how much they can raise. They have been quite vocal about it, and this is a presidential election year.

Man formerly had trouble understanding women. Now both Washington and women have him baffled.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

For several years, I have called attention to the inadequate salaries and allowances paid to our members of Congress. While the President's allowances have been lavishly increased, even to the extent of making part of his perquisites tax-exempt, members of the House of Representatives and the Senate find it difficult to make ends meet.

Many of them have added to their income by listing their wives as secretaries, in one form or another. Some are members of law firms with the attendant embarrassment of questionable clients. Just as Harry Truman, when he was Senator, added his wife to his office payroll, so has Alben Barkley, as Vice President, increased his income by public lectures at high fees.

Our legislators face the problem that unless they possess inherited wealth or assets earned prior to becoming members of the Congress, their financial problems are, for many of them, a source of embarrassment. What is true of them is also true of some Cabinet officers. It is not a secret that such a man as James A. Farley left the Postmaster-Generalship heavily in debt.

Many members of Congress find that when income taxes, the cost of being elected to office, the cost of keeping before the public, even if only locally, are added together, little is left for the maintenance of a residence in Washington as well as at home.

I have, over the years, known much about the private affairs of many members of Congress and I can say that some are doing a public service at the sacrifice of their families, while others have to find some extra-curricular activities which they would rather not do.

The cost of being a national legislator is so prohibitive that many suitable men, whose talents ought to be available to the country, simply cannot afford to enter upon such a career. It is much sounder to become an assistant in a bureau or to a Cabinet officer, stay a few years to make connections, and then join a law firm where such advantages will be rated satisfactorily.

Richard Nixon has served his country well. His work in uncovering the Alger Hiss case is deserving of the public recognition which he has received. He has not attained seniority in the Senate to have much of a record in that body. That takes years as things go there.

His error has been in attempting to do differently what so many of his colleagues do. What he did was to ask a number of citizens of his state to set up a fund to circulate his speeches, to provide for radio time, to interest the voters on his behalf. He maintained a permanent campaign fund. It is unfortunate that he did not announce that he was doing precisely that. I receive speeches, printed by the Government, from a large number of members of Congress. Sometimes the notation appears, "not printed at Government expense."

But no statement appears to say who pays the bill. Is it the N.A.M., the C.I.O.,

Arthritis In Young Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOST people think of arthritis as a disease that mainly affects adults and the aged. Arthritis in young children is not too uncommon, however. Some doctors have reported that almost five per cent of arthritis patients they have seen were children.

Arthritis in children differs a great deal from the disease of older people, producing various conditions not present in the adult. For example, fever may be the first symptom in a child.

Suspect Symptoms

Whenever a child has a fever and its cause cannot be determined, he should, at least, be suspected of developing a case of arthritis. If the lymph glands are enlarged throughout the body, this may be further indication of arthritis. Another symptom may be enlargement of the spleen, a large organ in the abdomen.

In a child, arthritis may first involve a single one of the large joints, such as the knee, hip, or ankle. This is much different from the disease in adults, where the small joints, such as those of the fingers, are the first to suffer. The child's joints become red and very tender.

Signs in Blood

At this stage, the blood may also show a decrease in the number of white corpuscles, which is important evidence of arthritis. Another sign is an increase in the sedimentation rate, a test to measure any infection present in the body.

It is thought that about forty per cent of children with rheumatoid arthritis recover completely. There is some tendency for the disease to come to a halt when they reach adolescence. The ankles and joints seem to improve better than the elbows and wrists.

No Definite Treatment

As yet, no definite treatment for rheumatoid arthritis in children has been discovered. However, doctors can take steps to build up a child's general health and reduce the permanent damage. It is important for such children to get plenty of rest and careful watching.

ACTH and cortisone, two newly discovered hormones, give dramatic results in relieving arthritis symptoms, but such relief is temporary. When the treatments are stopped, symptoms return. At the present time doctors are still experimenting with these drugs in treating arthritis of children.

After these drinking sprees he is always very sorry and depressed, and once he even attempted suicide. Up until this time he has always been a very quiet man and a moderate drinker. Can you help me?

Answer: It is likely that your husband is suffering from dipsomania. He is probably emotionally unstable and thus given to sudden desires for alcohol. He should consult a psychiatrist as soon as possible.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

NANCE frankly dawdled over dressing for her date with Rolph, hoping for a call from Jeremy before she left. But it was hardly likely at this hour. He'd be making his house calls. The minutes jerked by on the tiny electric clock on the dressing table, and when Rolph came for her there was still no word from Jeremy.

She put on an extra touch of bright lipstick, decided on the silver star clips for her hair, after all, and went out to Rolph, who was admiring Tabitha with Kit in the living room.

It was, Nance admitted, an interesting evening. Rolph danced well, talked amusingly, and seemed on hand-waving terms with a number of people.

Halfway through the evening, he beckoned a party over to their table. The Carlsons, who were in radio. The Carter Granahams, who collaborated on the book-length novels which were appearing regularly in the popular magazines. Gordon Killoran, a lawyer, and his pretty wife, Mavis. And Steve Raymond, a grave, lean man who seemed, Nance thought, a little bored with Libby Oliver, the pretty blonde girl who clung to his arm.

Nance found herself watching Steve Raymond, hazarding reasons for the chip he was so belligerently wearing, and a little sorry for the girl he was treating so offhandedly.

She mentioned it to Rolph, on the way home.

"Steve Raymond? Steve had a rather rough experience, recently. Married and divorced within the year. He was well out of it, I thought. Most of his friends feel the same. Although his wife was one of the most beautiful women I have ever seen."

"Where does Libby fit in?"

"Old friend, from cradle days. Libby consistently works on a change of status, though. But Steve is sour on women, since Eve."

Nance felt the smile on her mouth stiffen. "Eve?"

Casually Rolph said, yes. "At a party one night, Steve walked in and said, 'Meet my wife.' It was the first time any of us had met Eve, and we were mighty impressed. Eve did that to you. Took your breath. We all slapped Steve on the back and said, 'Lucky guy,' enviously. A year later they were divorced. Eve's settlement ran into six figures.

"He can afford it. He inherited a fortune in oil from his maternal grandmother. No one has seen Eve since the divorce. I don't think even Steve knows where she is. Or cares particularly. He's over loving her. If he ever did, which I doubt."

"Then why did he marry her?"

Nance said, "Eve what? Or is it Raymond?"

"No, Steve made it a condition that she drop his name. I don't know what she called herself before the marriage, or after. She just dropped out of his life, and ours. Ah, here we are."

The cab stopped in front of the apartment. Nance thanked him for an enjoyable evening, and went in. Kit was in bed. There was a note by the telephone. Jeremy had called.

Nance crumpled the message. She could call him back. No, it was after one. Jeremy would think it an emergency. Well, in a way it was, Nance thought wryly.

Undressing, she mulled over the things Rolph had said tonight. Steve Raymond's ex-wife and Eve Romley were not likely the same. Eve, and beautiful. That tallied, but Eve was an ordinary enough name, and it seemed unlikely that Steve Raymond's wife would have picked Thurstonia, after New York . . . Yet why not? She simply dropped out of our lives. None of us knows where she is. Why not Thurstonia? And if the two Eves were identical, what then?

And supposing the two Eves were the same? Eve hadn't mentioned a previous marriage, but that didn't necessarily imply intentional concealment. You just didn't say, "How do you do," and "I'm divorced!" in the same breath. If Eve chose not to talk of her divorce, it was her own affair, wasn't it? Nance abandoned conjecture, pulled back the sheets, got into bed.

Jeremy called the following evening.

"I'm sorry I missed yesterday's call," Nance said.

"It's all right."

"I had dinner with Rolph."

"Oh?"

But he wasn't interested. Not in that, nor in any of the pathways she opened almost desperately for easy, casual talk. They did the weather thoroughly, exchanged states of health, and came to mumbling monosyllables at each other until they, too, petered out.

Nance at length replaced the receiver almost with relief.

"I'm not jilted," Nance said, "yet."

Jeremy hadn't mentioned Eve. Nance wished he had. His avoidance of her name became all at once enormously significant. But perhaps jealousy hacked common sense into fantastic shapes, and blurred clarity of thinking, she reassured herself.

Yet when, a week later, Nance discovered that Eve Romley was the girl who had been Steve Raymond's wife, all her misgivings came swarming back.

Even the vacation menus are dictated by the Commie powers-that-be. How those East Germans must get tired of a diet of red herring, three times a day! ... ...

To the Communist mind, relaxing at one's own discretion is the lowest form of subversive inactivity.

In East Germany it isn't "Where'll it be, dear—the sea shore or the country?"—it's strictly, "What does Stalin think about it?"

At a Baltic resort recently vacationers were forced to work six days repairing and improving the beach installations and then they had to attend political meetings. That's strictly vacation without play!

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—President Truman will charge that General Eisenhower must share responsibility for the postwar breakdown of our war machine and for crossing off Korea as militarily vital territory, when he "whistle stops" across the country next month. It will be a major effort to absolve his administration of "bungling" these problems.

Ike has declared that Truman had "allowed America, at a time when strength was needed, to become weak." He has said that Truman's indifference toward the Russian menace in the Far East, as well as the refusal to support China, had virtually invited the Communists to invade South Korea.

Democratic spokesmen retort that Eisenhower was chief of staff during this period of alleged neglect of American interests, military and diplomatic. But Truman, in his homely style, will try to get himself off the hook. Since he is the main defendant, the task has been entrusted to him rather than to Governor Stevenson.

* * *

BUDGETS—Republican strategists profess no fear of this presidential barrage. In fact, they say they welcome it because they have made as intensive a study of all available records on the question as the White House has conducted. It is expected that many hitherto unknown secrets will be divulged in the debate.

Ike's first exhibit will be a listing of postwar military budgets, with official records that they were cut progressively by Truman over the protest of Pentagon advisers, headed by the late James V. Forrestal, then secretary of defense. The minutes of White House conferences and directives are available.

Here was the trend of defense funds as measured by the military budgets: 1946—$45 billion; 1947—$11.5 billion; 1948 — $9.7 billion; 1949—$13.9 billion; 1950—$13 billion; 1951 — $48.4 billion; 1952—$60.4 billion. South Korea was invaded on June 25, 1950.

* * *

WARNINGS — Meanwhile, as his files reveal, Eisenhower was delivering solemn warnings to Congress, businessmen and Budget Bureau directors against precipitate reductions. As early as 1946, he told Capitol Hill that the rapid demobilization was "almost without a safety factor. The operating efficiency of troops left in the United States is very low. Our planes cannot fly except in meager numbers for lack of trained ground crews to service them."

On retiring as chief of staff to head SHAPE in February, 1948, Ike left a final memo for Truman and Forrestal. His major point was the steadily developing weakness of the army. He said:

"It is already 100,000 men short of the authorized strength. The modest emergency force of 2 1-3 divisions is below strength. One of two things will happen. Either there must be action to hold the army at existing level, or it will continue to waste away until the occupation of Germany and the Far East will be impossible. The areas involved will have to be abandoned to chaos and Communism."

* * *

SUBSISTENCE—In spite of this report, the 1949 and 1950 funds allowed by Truman were far below Pentagon requests, including Ike's successors.' They amounted to only subsistence money, with no provision for expansion or experimentation. Simultaneously, inflation reduced the purchasing power of the military dollar, as it did everybody else's.

Yet it was in 1948 that, on the advice of Gen. George C. Marshall and Dean Acheson, the Administration embarked on a program of large-scale aid to Greece, Turkey and Western Europe—definite threats and provocation to a Russia growing increasingly aggressive and hostile, as former Ambassador Harriman regularly reported from Moscow.

* * *

EVIDENCE — Truman's handling of the 1949 defense budget will be the key evidence against the Administration. Truman demanded that it be kept below $15 billion. Speaking for the JCS, Forrestal said prophetically:

"Our occupation forces in Korea have diminished to a point (20,000) where it is doubtful if we can continue to maintain troops in that country. Our occupation forces in Germany and Japan are at a minimum. Our mobile forces for home defense are only 30,000."

Truman compromised — downward. He allowed an extra $464 million that had been denied by the Budget Bureau on condition it not be spent without his approval. When Congress increased Air Force funds to provide seventy groups, he refused to use the money, keeping strength at 58 units. The final budget was only $13.9 billion. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950—or five days after the attack on South Korea—military funds were cut further to $13 billion.

Principal advocate for getting out of Korea was the late Robert Patterson, then secretary of war. He complained of the expense and the "insignificance of the strategic and economic value of Korea." Marshall strongly opposed this viewpoint.

* * *

PROPOSAL — In August, 1946, Eisenhower made a proposal which will undoubtedly be used against him, although he advanced it as only a tentative idea and subject to Truman's approval.

Ike suggested a Pacific defense perimeter extending from Japan through the Ryukyus Islands and thence to the Philippines. This would have eliminated Korea as a sphere of American interest. When he submitted this program, however, all China had not fallen under Moscow's domination.

When Acheson stated it publicly as settled American foreign policy in January, 1950, the Reds had grown so powerful through their alliance with Mao Tse-tung, and we had become so weak in South Korea and Japan, that it served as an invitation to attack.

Garden Club Of Ohio Has Annual Meeting In Columbus

Many Are Present From Circleville

Three hundred members from all over Ohio attended the 26th annual meeting of the Garden Clubs of Ohio which convened Wednesday at the Columbus Country Club. Arrangements for the affair were under the leadership of Mrs. E. W. Barnhart of Circleville.

Annual reports were given at the business session which opened at 11 a. m. with Mrs. Clarence M. Huber of Rocky River, the State president, presiding. There are now 271 clubs with 10,393 members affiliated with the organization which has as its goal the promotion of city beautification and the wide-spread study of horticulture. Projects of the club have included the sponsoring of Honor Parks and the planting of trees and shrubs along the Blue Star Memorial Highway.

During the election of officers, Mrs. Barnhart of Circleville was re-elected regional vice-president of the Columbus district. Mrs. Emerson Gillespie was chosen president and Mrs. Theodore Ewing will serve as vice-president.

The Pickaway Garden Club received honorable mention for the publicity award and for the Bird award when recognition was made to the clubs that have done outstanding work during the year. The local club provided bird feeders to the convalescent homes of Circleville during the past year.

"Historical Ohio" was the theme of the talk given by Dr. William T. Utter, professor of history at Denison university. Because Ohio is at the threshhold of celebrating its 50th anniversary, Dr. Utter's remarks featured the historic background of the state, stressing the hardihood of the pioneer men and women who converted a wilderness into potential statehood.

Dr. Utter said that this territory was composed of dense forest, with only 1-25th of the area being clear land, among which was the fertile Pickaway Plains. He said that the early farmers used the timber to determine the type of soil—where white oak grew, there would be found thin soil; a better soil produced the poplar tree and where walnut and elm grew would be found rich black loam. Dr. Utter mentioned the early famous gardens which have been preserved and restored, among which are the Zoar Gardens at New Philadelphia and the garden at Adena, in Chillicothe, the home of Thomas Worthington.

The meeting was adjourned after the program and a tour of several Bexley gardens was conducted. Concluding the afternoon, Mrs. Lester Bush, president of the Franklin Garden Club invited the members to her home at 78 Park Drive, for tea.

Those present from Circleville included Mrs. Barnhart, Mrs. Sterley Croman, Mrs. Luther Bower, Mrs. D. J. Carpenter, Mrs. George Roth, Mrs. Oscar Root, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Forest Croman, Mrs. James Carpenter, Mrs. Lewis Sharpe and Mrs. Fred Clark.

Make entertaining easy! Develop two or three original main dishes you can prepare easily and successfully. Make them tasty enough so everyone will remember their special flavor.

Garden Club Of Ohio Has Annual Meeting In Columbus

Many Are Present From Circleville

Three hundred members from all over Ohio attended the 26th annual meeting of the Garden Clubs of Ohio which convened Wednesday at the Columbus Country Club. Arrangements for the affair were under the leadership of Mrs. E. W. Barnhart of Circleville.

Annual reports were given at the business session which opened at 11 a. m. with Mrs. Clarence M. Huber of Rocky River, the State president, presiding. There are now 271 clubs with 10,393 members affiliated with the organization which has as its goal the promotion of city beautification and the wide-spread study of horticulture. Projects of the club have included the sponsoring of Honor Parks and the planting of trees and shrubs along the Blue Star Memorial Highway.

During the election of officers, Mrs. Barnhart of Circleville was re-elected regional vice-president of the Columbus district. Mrs. Emerson Gillespie was chosen president and Mrs. Theodore Ewing will serve as vice-president.

The Pickaway Garden Club received honorable mention for the publicity award and for the Bird award when recognition was made to the clubs that have done outstanding work during the year. The local club provided bird feeders to the convalescent homes of Circleville during the past year.

"Historical Ohio" was the theme of the talk given by Dr. William T. Utter, professor of history at Denison university. Because Ohio is at the threshhold of celebrating its 50th anniversary, Dr. Utter's remarks featured the historic background of the state, stressing the hardihood of the pioneer men and women who converted a wilderness into potential statehood.

Dr. Utter said that this territory was composed of dense forest, with only 1-25th of the area being clear land, among which was the fertile Pickaway Plains. He said that the early farmers used the timber to determine the type of soil—where white oak grew, there would be found thin soil; a better soil produced the poplar tree and where walnut and elm grew would be found rich black loam. Dr. Utter mentioned the early famous gardens which have been preserved and restored, among which are the Zoar Gardens at New Philadelphia and the garden at Adena, in Chillicothe, the home of Thomas Worthington.

The meeting was adjourned after the program and a tour of several Bexley gardens was conducted. Concluding the afternoon, Mrs. Lester Bush, president of the Franklin Garden Club invited the members to her home at 78 Park Drive, for tea.

Those present from Circleville included Mrs. Barnhart, Mrs. Sterley Croman, Mrs. Luther Bower, Mrs. D. J. Carpenter, Mrs. George Roth, Mrs. Oscar Root, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Forest Croman, Mrs. James Carpenter, Mrs. Lewis Sharpe and Mrs. Fred Clark.

Make entertaining easy! Develop two or three original main dishes you can prepare easily and successfully. Make them tasty enough so everyone will remember their special flavor.

Commies Rebuff Red Cross Aides

SAIGON, Indo-China — (AP) — The International Red Cross is meeting only stony silence in its efforts to send representatives into prisoner-of-war camps of the Communist-led Vjetminh in Indo-China.

Repeated appeals have been made to permit the organization to deliver much-needed medicines to French Union soldiers held by the Vietminh.

French Union captives of the Vietminh long have been reported suffering because of a shortage of food and medicines.

Forms Now Available Here For Korea Vets Combat Pay

Pickaway County's newest war veterans were notified Thursday that forms are now available for combat pay applications.

Jim Shea, county service officer, obtained the blanks which veterans must use to claim combat duty payments provided in an act passed by Congress last July.

The regulations provide combat pay at the rate of $45 a month for members of the armed forces who were engaged in combat in the Korean area for a required period since June 1950.

Service in Korea does not necessarily entitle an individual to the payments, Shea explained. Generally, to be entitled to the pay during any one month, servicemen must have been "subjected to hostile fire for not less than six days during the month while serving with a combat unit."

* * *

COUNTY VETERANS were advised to consult the service officer in Pickaway County courthouse to determine whether their individual cases represent basis for a claim.

One section of the official procedure circular reads:

"The regulations authorize certain field commands to designate combat units each month beginning with July 1952. After these designations have been made, it will then be the responsibility of each individual's commanding officer to determine whether the individual's service with a combat unit entitles him to combat pay during the month."

Shea warned that the reference to last July merely coincides with enactment of the law. Veterans who can meet the requirements can claim the pay if they've served at anytime since June 1950.

The new regulations were originally designed to place veterans of the Korean conflict on an equal benefit basis with those of World War II.

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. However, unsigned letters will be disregarded. Nom de plume will be used if requested.

Editor, The Herald:

I've been reading a lot about the telephone situation, and I'm like Mr. Ed Wallace—I think we all should fight the high prices and rates on the telephone services. I'm afraid the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company is going to lose a lot of their customers if they raise the prices, and then they will have to raise the prices to pay their employes which, I'm afraid, they will still lose more if that should happen.

As for the poor service, I tried for one hour one day to get a party on the line and everytime I gave the number the operator would say the line was busy. The reason I know the line wasn't busy is because she didn't even give me time to give the complete number and I don't think she even tried to see if the line was busy.

I'm like many others by the time you try to get someone on the telephone—if it isn't a very long distance you could be to this party's house and back home by the time you try to get them on the phone.

So let's go Pickaway County and the City of Circleville and fight this all the way, if at all possible.

Movie Dialogue Features Latin

BRUSSELS — (AP) — Enterprising Belgian documentary film director Gaston Vernaillen recently released what is claimed to be the first Latin-talking picture in movie history, "Aspects of Imperial Rome of the Fourth Century."

"I thought it would be interesting to provide students and specialists with a tool. My film links a visual theme, Rome's fourth century splendor reconstructed, with an auditive interest, a Latin commentary," said Vernaillen.

French and Dutch translations are being made available. When the Latin version of the picture is shown, spectators will be given the text in advance to acquaint themselves with it.

Unique "star" of this 24-minute long production is a 328-square-foot plaster model of the fourth century capital of the Roman Empire. There are no actors in the film.

You can make a delicious vegetable casserole by combining carrots, onions, cabbage and potatoes (all cooked) with a cheese sauce. Turn into a casserole, top with buttered crumbs and bake until hot through and topping is lightly browned.

Want a delicious cheese dip to serve with crisp crackers or potato chips? Mash a three-ounce package of cream cheese with a half cup (firmly packed) of soft cheddar cheese; beat in enough cream so the mixture will be fluffy and can be used for dunking. Season with Worcestershire sauce, garlic salt and paprika.

World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)— The next move—if any—in the Sen. Nixon case seems to be up to Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Shortly after the disclosure last week that Californians chipped in an $18,000 expense fund for Nixon, Mitchell called on Gen. Eisenhower to sack his vice presidential running mate.

Mitchell's position was far sterner than that of Gov. Stevenson, who merely suggested that judgment be suspended until all the facts were in.

"I have more facts than Stevenson," Mitchell said when asked to explain the difference between his attitude and that of the governor's.

But this statement was made when the case was still new and before Nixon explained his side of it Tuesday night in a nationwide radio-TV appearance.

* * *

IT REMAINS now unclear whether Mitchell was talking about the facts as explained by Nixon or whether he had some new facts.

Since he's running the Democratic National Committee, if he had any facts that could blow Nixon out of the campaign, he could be expected to cut loose with them.

Eisenhower has had a full week in which to examine Nixon's case and reach a deliberate decision on whether to keep him on the Republican ticket.

And Eisenhower has said Nixon is "completly vindicated as a man of honor."

He gave Nixon his blessing in an emotional reunion in Wheeling, W. Va., Wednesday night.

From this point on if Mitchell or other Democrats could produce anything from up their sleeves that badly damaged Nixon, more than Nixon would be hurt. Eisenhower would be, too, since his own judgment is involved in giving Nixon a clean bill of health.

Between the time of the disclosure about Nixon's expense fund last week and Tuesday night when he explained it on TV, the Democrats made plenty of noise.

In comparison, they were fairly quiet between the time of the TV appearance and Wednesday night when Eisenhower marched Nixon before the Wheeling crowd with high praise.

But even if they can't offer anything else against Nixon, the Democrats aren't likely to let him and the general live in their reunion happily for ever after. They'll probably bang away at Nixon until election day.

Mailorder Groom Refuses To Pay

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Le Cameron Trent, 61, of nearby Loveland, is in jail here because he failed to keep up alimony payments to the British bride he wooed and won by mail.

And, if Trent keeps his word, it will be a long stay. "I'll stay in jail until it rots," he shouted.

Trent married Olga Julia Trent, of Hull, England, in June, 1951, after a courship by mail. Trent said he couldn't make the $30 weekly payments because "I have been taken for a sucker and I am broke."

OSU Enrollment Hits New High

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Enrolling a thousand more students than they expected, Ohio State University officials are searching for space to bed them.

The school expected last year's fall enrollment of 18,600 to drop to 17,000. But already 2,100 men and 1,500 women have signed up as freshmen, bringing the 1952-53 enrollment close to 18,000.

Double dormitory rooms are being converted into triples to handle the housing situation. Four barrack-type dormitories were made into women's housing.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)— The next move—if any—in the Sen. Nixon case seems to be up to Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Shortly after the disclosure last week that Californians chipped in an $18,000 expense fund for Nixon, Mitchell called on Gen. Eisenhower to sack his vice presidential running mate.

Mitchell's position was far sterner than that of Gov. Stevenson, who merely suggested that judgment be suspended until all the facts were in.

"I have more facts than Stevenson," Mitchell said when asked to explain the difference between his attitude and that of the governor's.

But this statement was made when the case was still new and before Nixon explained his side of it Tuesday night in a nationwide radio-TV appearance.

* * *

IT REMAINS now unclear whether Mitchell was talking about the facts as explained by Nixon or whether he had some new facts.

Since he's running the Democratic National Committee, if he had any facts that could blow Nixon out of the campaign, he could be expected to cut loose with them.

Eisenhower has had a full week in which to examine Nixon's case and reach a deliberate decision on whether to keep him on the Republican ticket.

And Eisenhower has said Nixon is "completly vindicated as a man & honor."

He gave Nixon his blessing in an emotional reunion in Wheeling, W. Va., Wednesday night.

From this point on if Mitchell or other Democrats could produce anything from up their sleeves that badly damaged Nixon, more than Nixon would be hurt. Eisenhower would be, too, since his own judgment is involved in giving Nixon a clean bill of health.

Between the time of the disclosure about Nixon's expense fund last week and Tuesday night when he explained it on TV, the Democrats made plenty of noise.

In comparison, they were fairly quiet between the time of the TV appearance and Wednesday night when Eisenhower marched Nixon before the Wheeling crowd with high praise.

But even if they can't offer anything else against Nixon, the Democrats aren't likely to let him and the general live in their reunion happily for ever after. They'll probably bang away at Nixon until election day.

Mailorder Groom Refuses To Pay

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Le Cameron Trent, 61, of nearby Loveland, is in jail here because he failed to keep up alimony payments to the British bride he wooed and won by mail.

And, if Trent keeps his word, it will be a long stay. "I'll stay in jail until it rots," he shouted.

Trent married Olga Julia Trent, of Hull, England, in June, 1951, after a courship by mail. Trent said he couldn't make the $30 weekly payments because "I have been taken for a sucker and I am broke."

Best Urges Farmers Decide Now On New Tree Planting

Larry Best, Pickaway County agricultural agent, urges farmers to plan now for Spring planting and to order the necessary trees as soon as possible.

He reminded them that many were deprived of planting stock last year because of a shortage of trees.

State nurseries have a policy of "first come, first served." The necessary blanks can be obtained at the extension office.

Byron Kent, farm forester with the Ohio Division of Forestry, will be available to assist any landowner in the selection of the species for the proper soil. His offices are in the Savings Bank building in Chillicothe.

* * *

A RELEASE issued by Best to aid further in the spring tree planting is as follows:

Black locust is the best tree to plant to control erosion on worn out land, but do not expect a crop of fence posts the first generation. Some varieties of pine are also adaptable for controlling erosion. A crop of Christmas trees or decorative boughs can be expected from thinning a pine planting in five to seven years.

Eighteen varieties of hardwoods and six varieties of evergreens can be supplied for reforestation purposes. No orders are accepted for less than 500 trees nor less than 250 trees of any species.

Pine are usually planted as a nurse crop to prepare the soil for hardwoods. Hardwoods, such as the oaks, hickories, and walnut, will usually reseed themselves in a pine plantation and crowd out the pine.

This year delivery will be made by truck to a central point in each county, where the trees can be picked up by the purchaser. Other methods of shipment can be made if desired.

Approximately 17 million trees were planted last year in Ohio. The aim of the State for 1953 is 25 million.

* * *

SUCH DESIRABLE trees as tuliptree, white oak, red oak, and walnut can be purchased from the state nurseries for $8 per thousand. Evergreen tree prices are somewhat higher.

The Division of Forestry will cooperate in the establishing of new school forests or extending established school forests by contributing 1000 trees annually.

For additional information, contact the Ohio Division of Forestry office in Chillicothe or write O. A. Alderman, Chief, Ohio Division of Forestry, 1500 Dublin road, Columbus.

Adlai To Speak In Ohio Oct. 3

DAYTON, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, will make two campaign speeches in Ohio on Oct. 3.

He will fly to Cincinnati for a luncheon meeting and deliver a major address in Columbus that evening, Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, democratic national committeeman, said.

More Production Per Acre Due To Farm Science

A 60 per cent increase in U. S. food production since 1920 has made it possible to feed our present 157-million population from the same crop acreage which fed 106 million people 32 years ago.

Some of this increase has come from the release of 65 million acres once used to feed horses and mules.

But, two-thirds is directly attributable to advances in agricultural science applied to farms since 1920.

At least one fourth of the nation's total crop production is directly attributed to the use by farmers of chemical fertilizers.

Fertilizers should be "high on the list" of production supplies needed by farmers to produce more food for our steadily expanding population. If soil and crop science push on, the nation will not particularly need additional acreage to provide the needed food.

Chinese Reds Seizing Boats

TOKYO—(AP) — Communist China is even worse than Russia in seizing and keeping Japanese fishing boats, the Fisheries Board says.

The board reports that the Russians have seized 35 boats since Japan became independent in April but returned 33. The Chinese Communists in that time seized seven and kept them all. The Communists have been seizing the boats on the pretext they invaded territorial waters.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Almost any teacher has had in her classroom two or more children from the same family.

Unless they are twins, having two in the same class at the same time means that the older one lags behind the younger.

This makes it hard for the older one, magnifying in his mind his lag, and rendering it more difficult for him to do his best. Other children notice that he does not do as well as the younger brother or sister, and his parents and other relatives may talk about the matter.

Wherever possible, these children should not be in the same classroom. Otherwise, the discerning teacher tries to help the older child to gain more success at books, to build him up as a person and to prevail on his parents to do likewise. For any older child to be outdistanced at school by a younger brother or sister is usually a grave tragedy.

* * *

EVEN WHEN both have advanced regularly in the grades, if one always gets on well with his books and schoolmates and the other lags in either direction or both, other problems arise.

Often, indeed, one child gets along so poorly at school because a brother or sister gets along so well, just as one may be so hard to manage at home because a brother or sister, especially an older one, is so easy to manage. The problem is to build up the other child, not always easy.

When a teacher, having had during an earlier term a child who excelled at school, gets a brother or sister of this child who lags or does not conform to the school ways, this teacher is inclined to say to the second child:

"When your brother (or sister) was in this room. . . ." How many children must be stung with such remarks! They may hear these remarks in high school, even in college.

Teachers are not alone in making such cruel comparisons. Parents also do it. And then, within the student body the earlier superior brother or sister may have won a notable reputation. Some youths refuse, if they can, to attend the college where an older brother or sister made an outstanding record.

I can think of no bigger problem in a family of two or more children than that of helping each child feel worthy and secure in the family group, feel he is as important as each of the other children there.

The all-around development, behavior and happiness of each child in a family is highly dependent on his feeling of relative worthiness, security.

It's not easy to think of a single problem in the child's upbringing that may not grow out of or be intensified by jealousy.

Q. Our daughter, six, doesn't want to go to school. She says everybody at school is a stranger to her and that nobody wants to play with her. What can I do?

A. Take it for granted she will go if not physically ill: At almost any personal sacrifice, plan to get her with some of her classmates while outside of school, even with other children about her age.

Q. What do you think of the use of flash cards in school to give children practice on rapid answers to such addition combinations as 7 and 6, or subtraction combinations such as 3 from 11?

A. Any such speed drill is usually harmful, encouraging children to repeat mistakes over and over. A better way is for each child to use such cards with answers, taking his good time, and never trying himself out on any combinations until he is pretty sure of the correct answer, feeling free at any time to look on the card for the right answer.

LOOKING incredulous, Flight Lieut. Theodorides, of the Greek Air Force, can hardly believe his ears as he is sentenced to death in a court in Athens. He was among a group of 18 officers and civilians charged with Communist-inspired sabotage. (International) the A. F. of L.? Somebody must pay for the huge volume of printed matter that I and thousands of other citizens receive.

Perhaps from the Nixon experience, members of Congress will in the future set up organizations entitled, let us say, "Pro-Nixon," "Pro-Javits," "Pro - Douglas" or whoever it is, so that the assistance may be organized and regularized.

I know this: I cannot afford to run for the House of Representatives or the Senate unless I were to continue my present work. Having been deprived of a large part of my earnings by taxation for several years, I would have to borrow to keep going, were I to go to Congress, or ask a company of friends to back me.

I once calculated, not because of ambition but as an academic matter, that with my present fixed expenditures, including insurance and the education of my children, a term in Congress would make me bankrupt in about nine months.

Are we to have a Congress of millionaires? Are we to have a Congress of men of inherited wealth only? Are we to be limited to practicing lawyers? If we want a Congress of excellent men, let us pay them adequately and relieve them from taxation.

Richard Nixon got some help—but he never sold his country nor has his wife accepted a mink coat as a gift for services rendered.

FBI Captures Fugitive, Wife

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 25 — (AP)— Thomas Edward Young, 34, one of the FBI's "10 most wanted" fugitives, and his wife Margaret, 32, were surprised and captured Tuesday by FBI agents in the wild, rugged Boise National Forest.

The couple, cornered on a lonely one-way mountain road, surrendered meekly although they were heavily armed. The FBI had searched for the couple intensively since they escaped from the Fargo, N. D., jail Dec. 27.

"Fully Cooked" Hams

1. Fully Cooked

There's a big difference between cooked and fully cooked hams. Cooked hams need additional cooking before use. Fully cooked hams such as these do not. Having been cooked at a higher temperature for a longer time than Government regulations for cooked hams require, they must be eaten "as is." Result? Maximum convenience . . . minimum shrinkage.

2. Short Shanked

A&P removes the waste portion of the shank, and you don't pay for this inedible skin and bone. Result? Maximum good eating for your family.

3. Medium Weight

"Super-Right" hams weigh between 12 and 16 pounds because they're cut only from specially selected young porkers—never from old over-fat ones. Result? Maximum tenderness and flavor.

4. Full-Cut Halves

No center slices are removed from half hams at A&P. Each butt or shank half you buy includes a full share of choice center meat. Result? Maximum value.

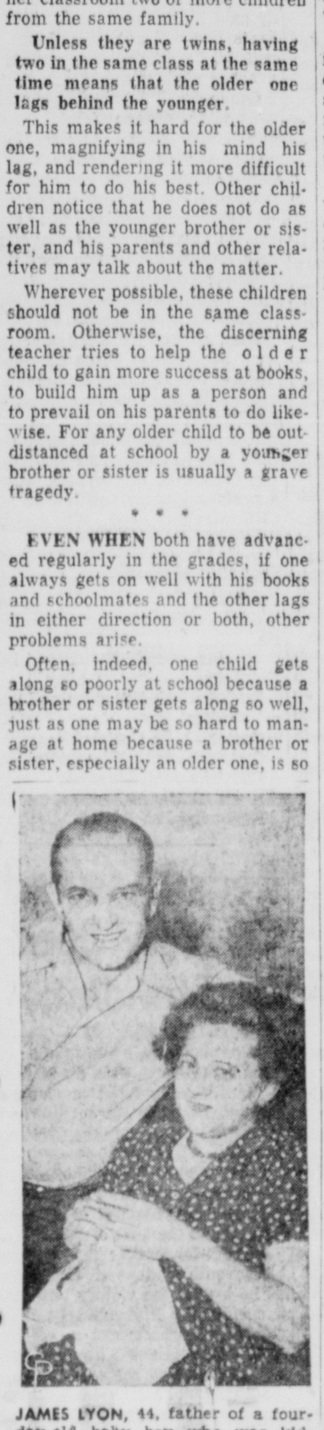
A. Take it for granted she will go if not physically ill: At almost any personal sacrifice, plan to get her with some of her classmates while outside of school, even with other children about her age.

Q. What do you think of the use of flash cards in school to give children practice on rapid answers to such addition combinations as 7 and 6, or subtraction combinations such as 3 from 11?

A. Any such speed drill is usually harmful, encouraging children to repeat mistakes over and over. A better way is for each child to use such cards with answers, taking his good time, and never trying himself out on any combinations until he is pretty sure of the correct answer, feeling free at any time to look on the card for the right answer.



JAMES LYON, 44, father of a four-day-old baby boy who was kidnaped from a Michigan City, Ind., hospital a year ago, drops dead from a heart attack shortly after visiting his wife in the maternity ward of the same hospital. He died just one day after his wife gave birth to a daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons are shown a few days before Mrs. Lyons entered the hospital second time. (International)

Sokolsky's

the A. F. of L.? Somebody must pay for the huge volume of printed matter that I and thousands of other citizens receive.

Perhaps from the Nixon experience, members of Congress will in the future set up organizations entitled, let us say, "Pro-Nixon," "Pro-Javits," "Pro - Douglas" or whoever it is, so that the assistance may be organized and regularized.

I know this: I cannot afford to run for the House of Representatives or the Senate unless I were to continue my present work. Having been deprived of a large part of my earnings by taxation for several years, I would have to borrow to keep going, were I to go to Congress, or ask a company of friends to back me.

I once calculated, not because of ambition but as an academic matter, that with my present fixed expenditures, including insurance and the education of my children, a term in Congress would make me bankrupt in about nine months.

Are we to have a Congress of millionaires? Are we to have a Congress of men of inherited wealth only? Are we to be limited to practicing lawyers? If we want a Congress of excellent men, let us pay them adequately and relieve them from taxation.

Richard Nixon got some help—but he never sold his country nor has his wife accepted a mink coat as a gift for services rendered.

FBI Captures Fugitive, Wife

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 25 — (AP)— Thomas Edward Young, 34, one of the FBI's "10 most wanted" fugitives, and his wife Margaret, 32, were surprised and captured Tuesday by FBI agents in the wild, rugged Boise National Forest.

The couple, cornered on a lonely one-way mountain road, surrendered meekly although they were heavily armed. The FBI had searched for the couple intensively since they escaped from the Fargo, N. D., jail Dec. 27.

LOOKING incredulous, Flight Lieut. Theodorides, of the Greek Air Force, can hardly believe his ears as he is sentenced to death in a court in Athens. He was among a group of 18 officers and civilians charged with Communist-inspired sabotage. (International)

Reasons Why Smart Shoppers Buy

A&P's Super-Right "Fully Cooked" Hams

1. Fully Cooked — There's a big difference between cooked and fully cooked hams. Cooked hams need additional cooking before use. Fully cooked hams such as these do not. Having been cooked at a higher temperature for a longer time than Government regulations for cooked hams require, they must be eaten "as is." Result? Maximum convenience . . . minimum shrinkage.

2. Short Shanked — A&P removes the waste portion of the shank, and you don't pay for this inedible skin and bone. Result? Maximum good eating for your family.

3. Medium Weight — "Super-Right" hams weigh between 12 and 16 pounds because they're cut only from specially selected young porkers—never from old over-fat ones. Result? Maximum tenderness and flavor.

4. Full-Cut Halves — No center slices are removed from half hams at A&P. Each butt or shank half you buy includes a full share of choice center meat. Result? Maximum value.

Tigers To Make 1952 SCOL Debut Friday Night Against Hurricane

Circleville's Tiger football team will make its 1952 South Central Ohio League debut at 8 p. m. Friday when it plays host to invading Wilmington Hurricane gridders.

Both teams will enter their first league test of the season with records of one loss, one win to date.

Circleville so far has halved its season, opening with a 32-6 victory over Columbus Holy Rosary and losing last Friday by a 14-13 margin at Linden McKinley.

Wilmington opened its season with a 13-7 loss to Xenia, while last Friday picking up a 13-0 victory over Lebanon.

Tiger gridders will be faced by seven returning lettermen on the Hurricane squad in the contest, and the two lines will be about evenly matched in weight.

* * *

WILMINGTON Coach Glen Hoddy said his forward wall in Friday's test will average about 160 pounds. Circleville's is expected to average slightly more than that.

Coach Hoddy added that his team will wear orange jersies, white pants and white helmets with orange stripes. Circleville will be clad in all white with red and black trimming.

Circleville fans who had to stand two weeks ago in the opening game with Rosary were given good news Thursday.

A new 1,620-seat permanent bleachers section will be completed in time for the game. The new section will be on the south side of the field, the home side.

With the new section, which will boast a front walkway, facilities will be available to seat more than 2,700 fans for Friday's encounter.

A feature of the evening will be a performance at halftime by the CHS marching band. Wilmington's band will not appear here.

Ends — Ken Smith and Bill Morris.
Tackles—Gerald Bullen and Dick Ewbanks.
Guards—Bob Ferguson and Terry Zurface.
Center—John Garland.
Quarterback — Eugene Bailey.
Left Half—Dale Inwood.
Right Half—Lyn Eggers.
Fullback—Jim Brooks.

Indians Idle As Yanks Try Copping Flag

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25—(AP)—Idle Thursday and Friday, the Cleveland Indians may be mathematically out of the pennant race before they trot onto the diamond again.

By winning Thursday in Boston and Friday in Philadelphia, the New York Yankees could wrap up their fourth straight flag. The Yanks need only two victories in their remaining four games to clinch it, since the Tribe trails by three in the loss column.

The long home stand ended Wednesday with a 6-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. It was the Tribe's 16th victory in the 20 games which started in Lakefront Stadium Sept. 3 with a loss to Detroit.

A doubleheader victory by the Yankees in Boston Wednesday took much of the lustre off Bob Lemon's three-hit whitewashing of the Chicagoans. It was Lemon's 22nd victory against 11 losses.

Bob Avila homered off Lou Kretlow in the fifth, his seventh of the season, to break a scoreless tie. Then in the seventh the Tribe staged a five-run rally to chase Kretlow and bring in Luis Aloma.

Singles by Lemon and Dale Mitchell and an intentional walk to Larry Doby loaded the bases. Luke Easter singled two runs home, then Al Rosen greeted Aloma with a homer good for three more runs. It was Rosen's 28th round-tripper and gave him the league-leading total of 105 runs batted in.

County Schools Ready For 3rd Week Of Play

Third week of Pickaway County's new, fast six-man football competition will be held Friday afternoon.

Games carded for the third week of play in the new loop call for Ashville's Broncos to invade at Walnut and Jackson's Wildcats to play at Williamsport.

Ashville and Walnut are both undefeated to date in play with other county schools. Ashville has two wins over county teams, while Walnut has one. Walnut lost, however, in a match at Lakeview last Saturday under the lights.

Williamsport's Deers will be seeking their first win in three starts when they play host to the Jackson team, which lost its season opener last Friday by a 22-18 margin to Pickaway. Williamsport has lost 26-12 to Walnut and 25-12 to Ashville.

PICKAWAY'S Pirates, have a bye on their schedule for this week.

All games in this week's round are expected to begin at about 2 p. m. Friday.

Reds Assured Of 6th Spot In Standings

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who once had high hopes of a first division finish, Wednesday night assured themselves of no worse than a tie for sixth place in the National League.

A 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals made it certain no one will pass the Redlegs in these dying days of the 1952 season.

Ken Raffensberger barely missed his seventh shutout of the season as he hurled the victory and made it certain the Rhinelanders will be right in the same spot in the final standings which they have occupied for the last two sesaons.

Stan Musial's third-inning homerun was the only tally given up by Raffensberger as he recorded his 16th victory of the season.

Ted Kluszewski got three for five and his average went to .322, 15 points behind Musial.

Rookie Jim Greengrass also continued to make merry with National League pitching. He clubbed out a pair of singles to move to a .309 average for his brief major league career.

The Reds got to Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell for a pair of runs in the third on two walks, an infield hit and an error.

Andy Seminick's double helped give Cincinnati another run in the fourth and Kluszewski's triple drove in a fourth tally in the fifth. An error and three singles accounted for the last of the Redleg runs in the eighth.

Royals Hoping To Knot Series

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The Montreal Royals, winners of the International League pennant, still had a fighting chance in the final playoffs for the Governor's Cup as they returned home Thursday for the sixth game with the Rochester Red Wings.

Rochester, leading in the series 3 games to 2, missed a chance to wrap it up at the Red Wings' ballwick Wednesday night when Walt Moryn batted in five runs with a double and homer as the Royals came from behind for a 6-5 victory.

Buckeye Aerial Attack Polished

Hayes thinks passing may come in handy as both teams employ the split-T against average defense lines on either side. For insurance on the ground side, the OSU mentor continued polishing the Bucks' ball handling in their practice workout Wednesday.

Arcaro Purses Top $2 Million

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(AP)—This is Eddie Arcaro's 21st season in the saddle and his greatest.

The 36-year-old Cincinnati jockey, leading money rider of all time, zoomed past the $2 million mark in purses his mounts had earned in one season Wednesday when he booted home three winners at Belmont Park.

No other jockey ever has come close to the bank note total run up by Arcaro.

Tigers To Make 1952 SCOL Debut Friday Night Against Hurricane

Circleville's Tiger football team will make its 1952 South Central Ohio League debut at 8 p. m. Friday when it plays host to invading Wilmington Hurricane gridders.

Both teams will enter their first league test of the season with records of one loss, one win to date.

Circleville so far has halved its season, opening with a 32-6 victory over Columbus Holy Rosary and losing last Friday by a 14-13 margin at Linden McKinley.

Wilmington opened its season with a 13-7 loss to Xenia, while last Friday picking up a 13-0 victory over Lebanon.

Tiger gridders will be faced by seven returning lettermen on the Hurricane squad in the contest, and the two lines will be about evenly matched in weight.

* * *

WILMINGTON Coach Glen Hoddy said his forward wall in Friday's test will average about 160 pounds. Circleville's is expected to average slightly more than that.

Coach Hoddy added that his team will wear orange jersies, white pants and white helmets with orange stripes. Circleville will be clad in all white with red and black trimming.

Circleville fans who had to stand two weeks ago in the opening game with Rosary were given good news Thursday.

A new 1,620-seat permanent bleachers section will be completed in time for the game. The new section will be on the south side of the field, the home side.

With the new section, which will boast a front walkway, facilities will be available to seat more than 2,700 fans for Friday's encounter.

A feature of the evening will be a performance at halftime by the CHS marching band. Wilmington's band will not appear here.

Ends — Ken Smith and Bill Morris.

Tackles—Gerald Bullen and Dick Ewbanks.

Guards—Bob Ferguson and Terry Zurface.

Center—John Garland.

Quarterback — Eugene Bailey.

Right Half—Lyn Eggers.

Fullback—Jim Brooks.

Indians Idle As Yanks Try Copping Flag

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25—(AP)—Idle Thursday and Friday, the Cleveland Indians may be mathematically out of the pennant race before they trot onto the diamond again.

By winning Thursday in Boston and Friday in Philadelphia, the New York Yankees could wrap up their fourth straight flag. The Yanks need only two victories in their remaining four games to clinch it, since the Tribe trails by three in the loss column.

The long home stand ended Wednesday with a 6-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. It was the Tribe's 16th victory in the 20 games which started in Lakefront Stadium Sept. 3 with a loss to Detroit.

A doubleheader victory by the Yankees in Boston Wednesday took much of the lustre off Bob Lemon's three-hit whitewashing of the Chicagoans. It was Lemon's 22nd victory against 11 losses.

Bob Avila homered off Lou Kretlow in the fifth, his seventh of the season, to break a scoreless tie. Then in the seventh the Tribe staged a five-run rally to chase Kretlow and bring in Luis Aloma.

Singles by Lemon and Dale Mitchell and an intentional walk to Larry Doby loaded the bases. Luke Easter singled two runs home, then Al Rosen greeted Aloma with a homer good for three more runs. It was Rosen's 28th round-tripper and gave him the league-leading total of 105 runs batted in.

County Schools Ready For 3rd Week Of Play

Third week of Pickaway County's new, fast six-man football competition will be held Friday afternoon.

Games carded for the third week of play in the new loop call for Ashville's Broncos to invade at Walnut and Jackson's Wildcats to play at Williamsport.

Ashville and Walnut are both undefeated to date in play with other county schools. Ashville has two wins over county teams, while Walnut has one. Walnut lost, however, in a match at Lakeview last Saturday under the lights.

Williamsport's Deers will be seeking their first win in three starts when they play host to the Jackson team, which lost its season opener last Friday by a 22-18 margin to Pickaway. Williamsport has lost 26-12 to Walnut and 25-12 to Ashville.

* * *

PICKAWAY'S Pirates, have a bye on their schedule for this week.

All games in this week's round are expected to begin at about 2 p. m. Friday.

Reds Assured Of 6th Spot In Standings

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who once had high hopes of a first division finish, Wednesday night assured themselves of no worse than a tie for sixth place in the National League.

A 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals made it certain no one will pass the Redlegs in these dying days of the 1952 season.

Ken Raffensberger barely missed his seventh shutout of the season as he hurled the victory and made it certain the Rhinelanders will be right in the same spot in the final standings which they have occupied for the last two sesaons.

Stan Musial's third-inning homerun was the only tally given up by Raffensberger as he recorded his 16th victory of the season.

Ted Kluszewski got three for five and his average went to .322, 15 points behind Musial.

Rookie Jim Greengrass also continued to make merry with National League pitching. He clubbed out a pair of singles to move to a .309 average for his brief major league career.

The Reds got to Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell for a pair of runs in the third on two walks, an infield hit and an error.

Andy Seminick's double helped give Cincinnati another run in the fourth and Kluszewski's triple drove in a fourth tally in the fifth. An error and three singles accounted for the last of the Redleg runs in the eighth.

Royals Hoping To Knot Series

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 — (AP)—The Montreal Royals, winners of the International League pennant, still had a fighting chance in the final playoffs for the Governor's Cup as they returned home Thursday for the sixth game with the Rochester Red Wings.

Rochester, leading in the series 3 games to 2, missed a chance to wrap it up at the Red Wings' baliwick Wednesday night when Walt Moryn batted in five runs with a double and homer as the Royals came from behind for a 6-5 victory.

Buckeye Aerial Attack Polished

Hayes thinks passing may come in handy as both teams employ the split-T against average defense lines on either side. For insurance on the ground side, the OSU mentor continued polishing the Bucks' ball handling in their practice workout Wednesday.

Arcaro Purses Top $2 Million

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(AP)—This is Eddie Arcaro's 21st season in the saddle and his greatest.

The 36-year-old Cincinnati jockey, leading money rider of all time, zoomed past the $2 million mark in purses his mounts had earned in one season Wednesday when he booted home three winners at Belmont Park.

No other jockey ever has come close to the bank note total run up by Arcaro.

Junior League Flag Within Yankee Grasp

A Win Thursday Means Tie Assured; Victory Friday Sews It Up

BOSTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Wednesday, Sept. 24, will go into the books as the day the New York Yankees snapped their Fenway Park doubleheader jinx, the day 20-year-old Mickey Mantle battered the stitches off the ball and the day the world champions virtually closed the books on the 1952 season.

The pennant-winning day can't arrive until Friday in Philadelphia, at the earliest, but a triumph Thursday would assure the champions of at least a tie.

To all intents and purposes the Yanks won their fourth straight pennant Wednesday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, in 10 innings, and 8-6.

Sure, the Cleveland Indians also won, whipping the Chicago White Sox, 6-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Lemon. But it will take a real blowup by the champions to move the title to Cleveland on Sunday.

The triumphs over Boston—the first Yankee sweep of a Fenway Park doubleheader in five years—increased the New Yorkers' lead to two games.

* * *

THE INDIANS have only two games remaining, both against the Tigers at Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

The Yankees have four to play, a season's final against Boston Thursday and then three with the Athletics in Philadelphia. The Tribe's chief hope lies in a Red Sox victory and then at least two out of three wins by the A's—themselves battling for third place.

Allie Reynolds, No. 1 Yankee pitcher with 19 victories and eight defeats, is Manager Casey Stengel's nomination Thursday. He'll be opposed by Sid Hudson, who has a 10 and 12 record.

"We've gotta use our best now," said Stengel after Wednesday's sweep. "Those other fellas (Cleveland) are winning too, you know.

"We gotta take care of ourselves. Lopat (left hander Ed Lopat) will go in Philadelphia Friday and then we'll see."

Mantle, no longer trying to fill Joe DiMaggio's shoes in centerfield but playing his own style, had one of his best days of the year in the Yankees' twin-killing. He provided the payoff punch in the first overtime inning of the opener, powdering the ball for a triple after Irv Noren opened with a double off relief hurler Dizzy Trout.

* * *

THEN IN THE second game he pitched in with another big blow—a three-run homer in the fourth. At the end of the day the books showed he had five hits in nine times at bat and had driven in six runs.

Bob Avila and Al Rosen backed up Lemon's shutout pitching with homers. In winning his 22nd game Lemon allowed only one hit in the first seven innings—a double in the third by pitcher Lou Kretlow. The White Sox got two more in the eighth.

The New York Giants assured themselves of no worse than a tie for second place by battering the Boston Braves with a homerun bombardment, 11-8 and 8-2.

The third-place St. Louis Cardinals, four games back of the Giants, lost a night game to Cincinnati 6-1.

The Philadelphia Phillies advanced within a game and a half of the Cards by walloping the Dodgers, 9-7, as Robin Roberts staggered to his 27th triumph. He became the first National League pitcher to win 27 since Bucky Walters captured that many for the Reds in 1939.

In the only other game played, Detroit's Tigers blew a four-run first-inning lead as they bowed to Tommy Byrne and the St. Louis Browns, 7-4, for their eighth straight setback.

Hoosier Horses Cop At Lebanon

LEBANON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Indiana owned horses took the feature races Wednesday night at the Lebanon Raceway's harness meeting as photos were necessary to determine the winners in six of the eight races.

W. G. Watts, owned by John J. Dugan of Pittsboro, Ind., and driven by Milt Harris, took first in the 22 class pace by reeling off the mile in 2:09.1.

Silk Polly, owned by Trelle Conway of Greentown, Ind., and driven by Garland Harris, won both heats of the Class 18-19 trot. She traveled the first heat in 2:10.2 and the second in 2:17.4.

Recent salary increases in the American League have gone to Bill Kennedy of the White Sox and Harry Simpson of the Indians.

A Win Thursday Means Tie Assured; Victory Friday Sews It Up

BOSTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Wednesday, Sept. 24, will go into the books as the day the New York Yankees snapped their Fenway Park doubleheader jinx, the day 20-year-old Mickey Mantle battered the stitches off the ball and the day the world champions virtually closed the books on the 1952 season.

The pennant-winning day can't arrive until Friday in Philadelphia, at the earliest, but a triumph Thursday would assure the champions of at least a tie.

To all intents and purposes the Yanks won their fourth straight pennant Wednesday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, in 10 innings, and 8-6.

Sure, the Cleveland Indians also won, whipping the Chicago White Sox, 6-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Lemon. But it will take a real blowup by the champions to move the title to Cleveland on Sunday.

The triumphs over Boston—the first Yankee sweep of a Fenway Park doubleheader in five years—increased the New Yorkers' lead to two games.

* * *

THE INDIANS have only two games remaining, both against the Tigers at Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

The Yankees have four to play, a season's final against Boston Thursday and then three with the Athletics in Philadelphia. The Tribe's chief hope lies in a Red Sox victory and then at least two out of three wins by the A's—themselves battling for third place.

Allie Reynolds, No. 1 Yankee pitcher with 19 victories and eight defeats, is Manager Casey Stengel's nomination Thursday. He'll be opposed by Sid Hudson, who has a 10 and 12 record.

"We've gotta use our best now," said Stengel after Wednesday's sweep. "Those other fellas (Cleveland) are winning too, you know.

"We gotta take care of ourselves. Lopat (left hander Ed Lopat) will go in Philadelphia Friday and then we'll see."

Mantle, no longer trying to fill Joe DiMaggio's shoes in centerfield but playing his own style, had one of his best days of the year in the Yankees' twin-killing. He provided the payoff punch in the first overtime inning of the opener, powdering the ball for a triple after Irv Noren opened with a double off relief hurler Dizzy Trout.

* * *

THEN IN THE second game he pitched in with another big blow—a three-run homer in the fourth. At the end of the day the books showed he had five hits in nine times at bat and had driven in six runs.

Bob Avila and Al Rosen backed up Lemon's shutout pitching with homers. In winning his 22nd game Lemon allowed only one hit in the first seven innings—a double in the third by pitcher Lou Kretlow. The White Sox got two more in the eighth.

The New York Giants assured themselves of no worse than a tie for second place by battering the Boston Braves with a homerun bombardment, 11-8 and 8-2.

The third-place St. Louis Cardinals, four games back of the Giants, lost a night game to Cincinnati 6-1.

The Philadelphia Philties advanced within a game and a half of the Cards by walloping the Dodgers, 9-7, as Robin Roberts staggered to his 27th triumph. He became the first National League pitcher to win 27 since Bucky Walters captured that many for the Reds in 1939.

In the only other game played, Detroit's Tigers blew a four-run first-inning lead as they bowed to Tommy Byrne and the St. Louis Browns, 7-4, for their eighth straight setback.

Some Of Best Grid Games Due Saturday

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(AP)—Some of the season's best football games will be played this weekend, partly hidden by the approaching World Series.

Hoosier Horses Cop At Lebanon

LEBANON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Indiana owned horses took the feature races Wednesday night at the Lebanon Raceway's harness meeting as photos were necessary to determine the winners in six of the eight races.

W. G. Watts, owned by John J. Dugan of Pittsboro, Ind., and driven by Milt Harris, took first in the 22 class pace by reeling off the mile in 2:09.1.

Silk Polly, owned by Trelle Conway of Greentown, Ind., and driven by Garland Harris, won both heats of the Class 18-19 trot. She traveled the first heat in 2:10.2 and the second in 2:17.4.

Pastor Passes Hat To Pay Fine

VANDALIA, Ill.—(AP)—A minister pleaded guilty to running a highway stop sign. He asked the court if he could say something.

"Of course," replied Justice Glen O. Walter, "Say anything you want."

The 50-year-old minister from Newark, Va., doffed his hat, bowed his head and prayed two minutes. He asked mercy for himself and Judge Walter. Then he asked how much his penalty would be. The court said $5.40 plus $4 costs.

Man, 103, Has 232 Descendants

STUART, Fla.—(AP)—If Noel R. Raulerson, who died recently at 103, didn't have a record number of descendants, he must have been close to the mark.

Thirteen of his 17 children survived him. In addition there were 110 grandchildren, 165 great-grandchildren and 34 great-great-grandchildren.

A lifelong Florida resident, Raulerson was born in 1848 when the state had been in the Union only 3½ years and was mostly a vast wilderness. Married in 1869, he was an ardent church worker, cattleman and farmer.
